

Voters In 9 Cities Decide On 21 Council Seats Tomorrow

The 1962 election year will be kicked off in Marin County tomorrow when voters in nine cities decide the fate of 21 city council seats.

A total of 52 candidates, including one write-in campaigner, hope to be elected. There are contests in all of the nine cities except in Ross, where there are but two candidates for two openings.

Along with city council candidates, voters in Mill Valley, Sausalito, Larkspur and Corte Madera will see propositions on their ballots.

In Mill Valley, voters will decide whether they want to increase the Mill Valley School District tax limit 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation. (Residents of the school district outside the city will vote on the tax issue alone. Tomorrow's election will be for them a special election.)

Mill Valley city residents will also be asked whether the position of city treasurer shall be appointive rather than elective as it is now.

Larkspur voters will decide whether their city treasurer and city clerk should be appointed.

Sausalito voters likewise will decide whether their city clerk should be appointed.

Corte Madera voters will be asked whether they want to approve two bond issues: $165,000 for a swimming pool and $100,000 for police headquarters and a fire department.

Here are the candidates for council seats in the nine cities (San Rafael does not hold a city election this year):

Belvedere (two to be elected)—H. Nordmark Williams (incumbent), John R. Moore, Mrs.

Sarah G. Matthews and Herbert H. Scheier.

Corte Madera (three to be elected)—Albert E. Kogler (incumbent), Edward W. Colthurst (incumbent), Norman R. Barnett and Donald A. Jensen.

Fairfax (three to be elected)—Rolfe M. Ockenden (incumbent), Clyde McKinney (incumbent), Mrs. Sarah McKinney (no relation), Cornelis van Vliet, Frank L. Lawrence and Russell Brayall, originator of a referendum petition against a night parking ban law, who is a write-in candidate.

Larkspur (two to be elected)—Neil R. Brixon (incumbent), Robert J. Smith and Orrin W. Gray.

Mill Valley (two to be elected)—Joseph E. Sheeks (incumbent), Roderic L. Robinson, A. A. Hemmerling and William M. Secor.

Novato (two to be elected)—Mrs. Lucille Cannon, Howard Schoof, James F. McConnell, James A. Dougherty, Eugene R. Trombley, Ralph J. Salvemini, Robert Johnson and Francis James Picchi.

Ross (two to be elected)—Frederick S. Allen (incumbent) and Roy Farrington Jones.

San Anselmo (three to be elected)—Carleton G. E. Little (incumbent), William Fran-chini (incumbent), Robert E. Rouse (incumbent), Homer F. Crowell, Woodrow B. Capurro, Edward L. Nordmann, Robert Bohanna, Charles Kunst and Cecil J. Allen.

Sausalito (two to be elected)—Serge Trubach, John J. Galas, Paul Micou, Jan P. Dyk, Russell H. Pappenhausen, Robert Forsberg, Hugh G. Lawrence and Mrs. Marsha J. Owen.

'GOOD GOVERNMENT' FOR SALLY?

Fake! Cries Letter's 'Author'

A Sausalito importer said today he will ask federal and state investigation of a Sausalito political mailing piece which carries his name and signature in behalf of the candidacy of Marsha Owen for city council.

The mailing piece purported to come from the Good Government League of Sausalito, with Mervin S. Cowen as president. Postmaster Henry Heynen said 3,334 copies were mailed to registered voters Saturday by first class mail. He said he did not know who mailed them.

A picture of Mrs. Owen — known as Sally Stanford — appeared at the top between pictures of President John F. Kennedy and former ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The text gave 10 reasons for a vote for Mrs. Owen. Below was the facsimile signature of Cowen.

However, Cowen declared, "I am not president and have nothing to do with the organization."

Furthermore, he said, he is backing Jan Paul Dyk and Paul Micou for city council — not Mrs. Owen. He admitted, however, that he had "signed a paper for Sally" when Mrs. Owen initially entered the city council race.

Cowen, who lives at 21 Atwood Avenue, said he would ask the United States district attorney and the Marin County district attorney to investigate the use of his name. He said he thought a federal statute might be involved because the letter was sent through the mails. He said he had turned the matter over to his attorney, Daniel W. Hone of San Francisco.

The mailing piece also listed other officers of the Good Government League of Sausalito as Mrs. David W. Wertheim and Dr. George D. Percy, vice presidents; Harry S. Wainwright, secretary and David Wilson, treasurer.

Mrs. Wertheim is on a trip to the Orient.

Percy declared, "I never heard of the League for Good Government."

Wilson said he knew nothing of the league, either.

Wainwright said he is "100 per cent in favor of the Good Government League" and 100 per cent behind Miss Stanford. But he said he does not know Cowen or Wilson and had not seen the letter.

As for Mrs. Owen, when asked about the mailing piece, she said:

"I thought we were all members of the good government league. If not, we should be."

Postmaster Heynen said the city council race has brought the Sausalito Postoffice a business boom. He said $50,000 in stamps and stamped envelopes have been sold in the past week for political mailings.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Owen's representatives at her campaign headquarters said she will be driven to the polls shortly after 9 a.m. tomorrow by a friend, Talbot Kendall of Pebble Beach, in his 1915 Rolls Royce. Kendall, described as a "wealthy eccentric," is to be dressed in livery and available to drive little old ladies to the polls in the Rolls all day.

JFK, Macmillan Study A-Appeal

May Seek Nikita's Approval

LONDON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan were reported today to be weighing an urgent new plea to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to help stave off resumption of atmospheric nuclear weapon tests.

British sources said the step is under high-level study in Washington and London and a decision may be near. It probably would take the form of a personal message asking Khrushchev to make a test-ban treaty possible.

Khrushchev could do this by allowing referee-groups to investigate and verify any big bangs that sound like nuclear test blasts. For months he has been refusing to do this. Russia argues fair play can be insured by faraway detecting gadgets. Teams of detectives would only snoop and spy, in Khrushchev's view.

The idea behind the proposed Kennedy-Macmillan appeal, according to informants, is to give Khrushchev a last chance to change his mind before a new round of nuclear tests begins. The Americans are planning a series on Christmas Island in the Pacific later this month. The Russians have said they will resume their own firings if the American test plans go through.

Kennedy and Macmillan, despite the advice of their military men, are believed reluctant to start another round of competitive East-West testing.

Kennedy Move In Shipping Strike Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential board of inquiry today received protests from both shipowners and striking maritime unions against a probable Taft-Hartley injunction to end the 24-day West Coast shipping strike.

It appeared President John F. Kennedy would seek one, nevertheless.

The three-man board, named by Kennedy Saturday because of food shortage in Hawaii, met today, received the two statements, and adjourned to write its report—all within 10 minutes.

COMIC DICTIONARY LIFE

The irony that usually gives a man money to burn after the fire has gone out.

U.S. DEMANDS

Outlaw Writings Of Marx, Lenin

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean called on the Soviet Union today to outlaw books which dwell on the inevitability of war—including the works of Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

He made the demand in a heated session of the 17-nation disarmament conference in which delegates from East and West clashed on the question of how to eliminate war propaganda.

Dean reiterated that the United States believes that problem can best be dealt with by increasing exchanges of views across the Iron Curtain.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin contended war propaganda should be made a formal crime in every country. He charged American refusal to countenance this indicated the United States is falsely sheltering behind principles of free expression.

Zorin also accused the United States of repressing American citizens who sought peace. Dean rejected the contention as absolutely false. He said the United States acts only on the principal that any state has the right to prevent subversion by force.

He emphasized that the American government prosecutes only those who advocate force for political ends. His reference obviously was to Communists.

$1.5 BILLION FOR DEFENSE APPROVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today approved a bill authorizing $1,524,197,000 in military construction—more than 35 per cent of it for the nation's strategic retaliatory forces.

The funds would be used to improve 466 Army, Navy and Air Force bases at home and overseas.

In approving the bill, the committee voiced serious concern over the number of construction contracts being awarded to firms "who are not in fact construction companies, who have little if any construction experience, but who are in fact brokers."

"Under present procedures," the committee said, "it is possible for an entrepreneur to obtain quotations on the several component parts of a construction project from specialists such as electricians, or plumbers, and including general contractors, and to submit a bid based upon these subcontractor quotations and his own overhead and profit."

It said such bidders win contracts in many cases with the result that "the government is paying him an overhead and profit merely for having consolidated a number of subcontractor quotations." This, it said, sometimes results in delays and inferior quality.

The measure included 311 million dollars for the construction of 16,503 units of military family housing at dozens of bases throughout the country.

Kennedy Tosses Baseball Opener

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy opened the 1962 baseball season today with what looked like a fancy curve.

Kennedy got off a throw that at least a half dozen other players let go through their hands before Marty Kutyna, Washington pitcher, got the ball on the first base line.

The season-opener, against the Detroit Tigers, was the first game for the Washington Senators in the new 24-million-dollar D. C. Stadium, and Kennedy pulled an innovation too. Instead of coming down the aisle, he came through the Senators' dugout and took his seat just behind it.

Race Testing Is Fatal To Exec's Son

Sports Auto Overturns On Tiburon Road

The 23-year-old son of a Bank of America executive was killed Saturday night when the sports car in which he and a friend were practicing for a road race plunged off West Strawberry Drive in Tiburon and overturned on him.

The victim was James Christopher Stewart, son of Samuel B. Stewart, vice president and general counsel for Bank of America. He resided with his parents in San Francisco.

The friend, Robert Hanks Goldsmith, 18, also of San Francisco, was at the wheel of the Austin Healey Sprite, southbound, when it left the road at a curve south of Gilbert Drive, plunged 50 feet down an

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Matador Juan Belmonte Dies

SEVILLE, Spain (UPI)—Juan Belmonte, considered one of the greatest matadors of all time, died of a heart attack yesterday.

Belmonte

Belmonte, 70, who defied death for more than 25 years in the bullrings of two continents, was stricken while testing young bulls on the estate.

The matador, who learned his craft by stealing into herds of killer bulls to practice by moonlight, made his debut in 1909. Belmonte planted his feet in the sands of the arena and forced the bull to move to him, rather than moving out of the animal's way.

Belmonte was gored many times by the bulls' horns and at the time of his death still was being treated for an old wound in a foot.

Burton Back To Cleopatra Set

ROME (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton were back together today playing Cleopatra and Marc Antony after a weekend apart while Burton visited his wife in Paris.

Both showed up on the set for a long day's work on a scene in their picture in which they are filmed together but exchanged no tender talk.

Miss Taylor, who was out with Burton almost every night last week, did not go to the airport to meet him when he arrived last night from his Paris visit to his wife, Sybil.

Sybil flew back to London from Paris, but Burton said he expected her to rejoin him in Rome soon. He did not say when.

Deaths In Blast

PONT SAINTESPIRIT, France (UPI)—A gunpowder factory blew up in nearby Saint Just D'Ardeche today, causing heavy casualties and damage and forcing the 500 villagers to flee for their lives.

Police said they believed at least 20 persons had been killed.

Yanks Die In Asia

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas killed two American military advisers to South Viet Nam troops and apparently captured two others yesterday in an ambush near a U.S. helicopter base 360 miles north of Saigon.

The four enlisted men were ambushed on a training mission with Vietnamese soldiers near the town of An Chau, on the South China Sea, U.S. military authorities said.

Another Crane

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Crip and Josephine are two bashful whooping cranes determined to do something about preserving their nearly extinct species.

Their fifth offspring cracked through its egg yesterday at Audubon Zoo to increase the world population of the rare bird to 48.

Crip and Josephine are taking turns incubating a second egg.

Cuba Refugees

MERIDA, Mexico (AP)—Fourteen refugees from Cuba arrived in the Yucatan port of Progreso yesterday after five days in a small boat.

The group included a woman and her 11-month-old daughter. "I could not even find milk for my child any longer in Cuba," she said.

The refugees said they left Coloma, on the south coast of Pinar del Rio Province, the night of April 3 because "we could not stand the situation of our country any longer."

No Drumming Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, has banned any repetition of the grim ceremony in which a 20-year-old leatherneck was "drummed" out of the service last week.

Shoup also directed the Marine inspector general to conduct an informal investigation of the Norfolk, Va., incident to "find out exactly what happened and why."

It was evident Shoup and other officials were upset about publicity given the incident. The unidentified marine had served a brig sentence for larceny.

Eugenics Pair Weds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The question of whether Air Force Lt. Kenneth Kelly and his fiancée would take a eugenics test to share his late father's estate appears to have been settled.

Kelly, 22, and Susan Miles, 20, were married yesterday and the girl's father said the couple took the test.

Neither Kelly nor Susan, a resident of the Sacramento suburb of Rancho Cordova, would comment.

Kenneth's father was Dr. Ruman Lee Kelly, Harvard professor and an author of the Stanford Achievement Test. He died last May 2 at the age of 73 and left an estate of $175,000.

His will said the only way Kenneth and another son, Kalon, 23, could have their half of the estate was for them and their future wives to take eugenics tests before they married.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect that ultraconservatives will influence the course of the major political parties in this fall's congressional elections appears to be fading. Leaders of both parties, in fact, are busy posting keep-away signs against zealous citizens who profess to feel that some of the nation's highest officials are entrapped in a Communist conspiracy.

The signs apply also to those who, among other things, want to abolish the income tax and to impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren.

This was demonstrated in the frosty reception Republicans and Democrats gave last week to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker when he questioned the loyalty of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and others in testimony before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee. Sen. Strom Thurmond, (D-S.C.), who sparked the inquiry into alleged muzzling of military men at which Walker appeared, made it clear several times he was not endorsing the general's statements.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, (R-Ariz.), a spokesman for Republican conservatives, didn't even turn up to hear Walker, as he could have done as a member of the parent Armed Services Committee.

Walker's performance on the witness stand convinced most of the politicians who heard him that the former general is not likely to become an effective spokesman for the far right.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, (R-Mass.), said he couldn't go along with Walker's charges. Sen. Howard W. Cannon, (D-NeV.), said they weren't supported by the record.

Sen. John M. Stennis, (D-Miss.), head of the Senate group that heard Walker's testimony, said he has no intention of calling for an inquiry into the records of persons accused by the former general of being soft on communism.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, (R-N.Y.), used Walker's appearance to tee off against what he called the "radical right in the Democratic party." Walker is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor in Texas. His chances are regarded as poor.

Javits said in a New York television broadcast yesterday that "the radical right is not only a threat to the Republican party, it is also a threat to the Democratic party."

Exiles Hope To Negotiate With Castro

Fidel Might Let Prisoners Go For $62 Million

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—Cuban exile negotiators will fly to Havana tomorrow in hopes of inducing Prime Minister Fidel Castro to reduce the 62-million-dollars set as ransom for their sons and husbands captured at the Bay of Pigs.

A spokesman for the Cuban Families Committee said Castro replied favorably last night to a cable seeking an audience with him.

The vice treasurer of the committee, Enrique Llaca, said the committee already has raised 26 million dollars in cash and pledges in four months to aid the prisoners.

The 1,179 prisoners, captured in the abortive invasion last April, were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment each pending payment of ransoms ranging from $25,000 to $500,000.

CLOSED TO U.S.

The usual verdict came Saturday night by a five-man military tribunal, Havana newspapers reported. The trials were closed to the American press.

Prosecutor Jose Santiago had called for the severest penalties. The maximum penalty is death, but Castro had been reported wary of imposing it.

Some exiles here believe the sentences and ransom provision resulted from the family committee's offer to negotiate for the captives' release. A cable offering to negotiate was sent Saturday.

The price for prisoners has more than tripled since Castro made his startling offer last May to swap the prisoners for 500 tractors.

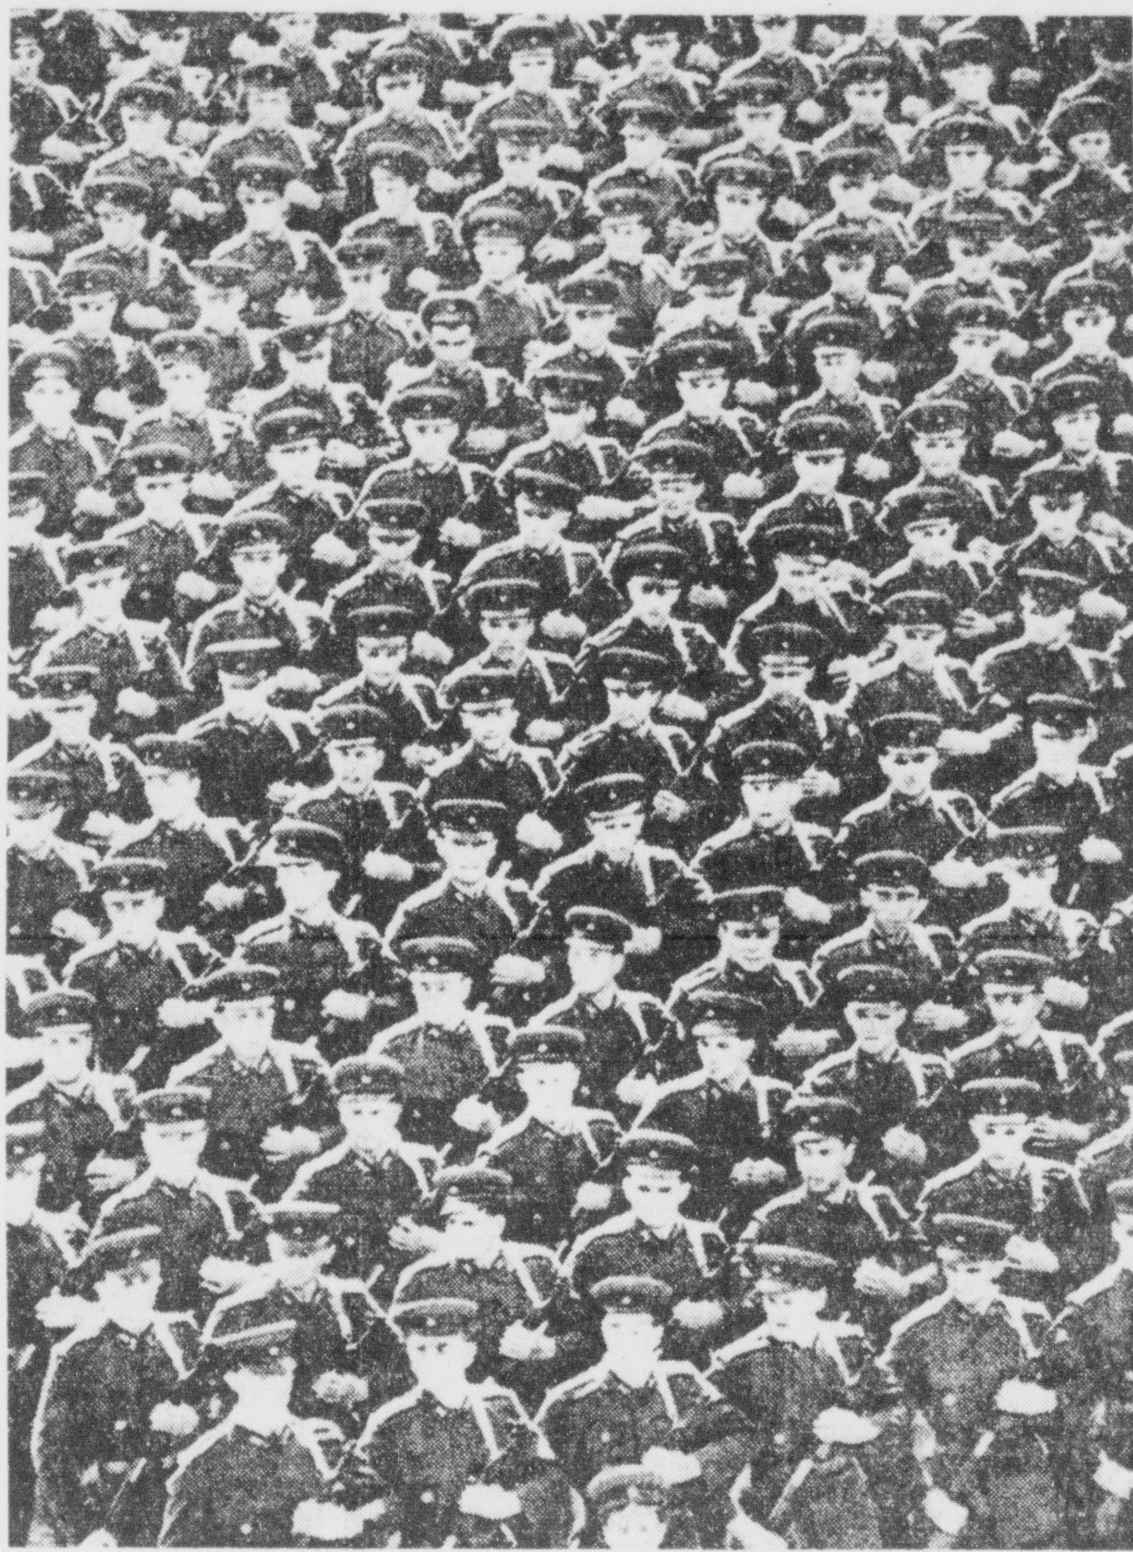

RANGE OF FIGURES

A committee of U.S. citizens organized at that time to try to arrange the trade. It was estimated that it would take up to 7 million dollars to buy enough tractors or bulldozers to free the prisoners.

The prisoners now may be released one by one on payment of ransoms or indemnities ranging from $25,000 for a man in the ranks to $500,000 for a leader of the invasion.

In New York, the chairman of the International Rescue Committee, Leo Cherne said his organization would not negotiate with the Cuban government to ransom the prisoners.

Cherne compared the ransom offer to that made by the Germans during World War II—10,000 trucks for the lives of 100,000 Hungarian Jews.

GOP Session Ends In Peace

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The annual meeting of the California Young Republicans College Federation ended yesterday on a note of harmony after a stormy three days during which police were called at one point to keep peace.

Harold Phillips of University of Redlands was elected president after his opponent Charles Johnson of Long Beach State College withdrew when a test vote indicated he could not win.

The meeting erupted several times in disputes between liberal and conservative delegates, but ended in a display of friendship when Johnson, a conservative, said his group would work for party unity.

The closing session was taken up with the adoption of resolutions which must be approved by the parent California Young Republicans before they can be made public. Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco gave the final luncheon address.

A name-calling, fist-swinging melee over a dispute in seating conservative delegates Friday night had to be quelled by police.

Phillips returned to his room yesterday shortly after his election to find it in a shambles. Johnson apologized for the damage saying he feared some of his backers had acted "irrationally." He and several of his supporters offered to help clean up the mess.

In his speech, Christopher, a GOP candidate for lieutenant governor, criticized Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposed new budget.

FRENCH APPROVE OF ALGERIA PACT

PARIS (AP)—French voters have overwhelmingly approved President Charles de Gaulle's peace pact with the Algerian nationalists.

The secret Army Organization, fighting to keep Algeria French, replied with more terrorist killings and defiant proclamations printed in newspaper plants occupied at gunpoint.

Sixty-five per cent of the 26,883,275 voters in metropolitan France endorsed De Gaulle's Algerian policy yesterday in response to his plea for a public show of confidence. Only 25 per cent of the registered voters failed to cast ballots, and 90 per cent of the valid ballots were cast in favor of the peace agreement.

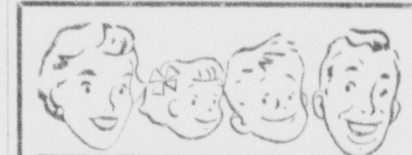

There was no voting in Algeria. European extremists there killed at least 26 persons and wounded 67.

Commando bands raided plants of the Oran Echo and Oran Republican in the west Algerian port city early today and forced pressmen at gunpoint to run off thousands of copies of the papers labeled "Special Secret Army Edition."

Incomplete returns from metropolitan France and Corsica were: yes—17,505,473; no—1,794,553. A total of 1,102,477 ballot were invalid.

De Gaulle put before the voters a two-point proposal. One called for confirmation of the cease-fire signed with the Algerian rebel command at Evian on March 19. The other asked for blank-check powers to make Algeria an independent Moslem-ruled nation if—as everyone expects—the Algerians favor independence in a self determination referendum later this year.

New Home Sought For Burned Out Mill Valley Family
Persons with information regarding a new home for the James H. Jensen family, burned out of their Mill Valley home last week, may reach the family through the American Red Cross or at the home of William R. Witt at 412 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley.
The Independent Journal on Saturday incorrectly reported the name of William R. Witt as Ditt.
Mrs. John Shortridge, service worker at the Red Cross headquarters at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, said any home offered to the Jensens must be in the Mill Valley area because of transportation problems.

A Mill Valley miss today was chased by a deer that attacked her dog, she told police.
Phyllis McChesney said she and her two sisters heard their Pekinese dog, Oue, cry out in the yard at 7:45 a.m. They looked out the window. There was a big deer, pawing at the dog.
Miss McChesney took a tree-trimming saw with a six-foot handle and ran at the deer. The deer ran at her. Her sisters came to the rescue with garden rakes.
Oue got away. So did the deer.

'Old Folks Home' Hearing Tomorrow

A second public hearing on a proposed "old folks home" in the Terra Linda area is scheduled before the San Rafael Planning Commission tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

The hearing is on a request by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, Marin County medical director, to build a 90-bed hospital on five acres between Nova Albion Way and Trellis Drive.

The hospital, according to Dufficy, would not include surgical, emergency or obstetrical facilities and would be operated as a replacement to the county's Lucas Valley farm and hospital which has been condemned by the state.

The five-acre site on which the hospital would be located is part of 33 acres on which Dufficy holds an option. Plans are in the offing for convalescent homes and other facilities for elderly persons on the remaining acreage, Dufficy said.

At the first public hearing on March 27, the project was opposed by numerous residents of the area on the grounds that it would cause a traffic hazard for children. The proposed site is adjacent to the Don Timoteo and Valecito Junior High Schools.

The site is also in the path of the proposed extension of Montecillo Road as indicated on the county master plan.

Planners said they would like to see development plans for the entire parcel of 33 acres, indicating they would not approve halting extension of Montecillo Road if only the five-acre parcel were to be developed.

Also before the planners will be requests for architectural approval of the following:

A 12-unit apartment at Canal and Harbor Streets; office building at Professional Parkway and Frontage Road; addition to the DiPietro Building on Vivian Way; 14-unit apartment at Lincoln Avenue near Myrtle Avenue; office building on H Street between Fourth Street and Fifth Avenue; 28-unit apartment on Nova Albion Way.

Public hearing dates will be set for a proposed rezoning of Bayo Vista Way near Scenic Avenue from single family residential to duplex and garden apartment zoning.

More Money Is Raised For Piano Scholarship

Another talented young Marin pianist will have an opportunity for further study — thanks to money raised personally by Mrs. Marvin W. Christensen of San Anselmo.

Impressed with the scholarship plan of the Marin Music Teachers Assn., Mrs. Christensen decided to found another scholarship as a memorial to her 13-year-old daughter Cheryl's former teacher, the late Henrietta Trusty of San Rafael.

So far Mrs. Christensen has obtained $155 through writing Mrs. Trusty's former pupils and personal friends. She hopes there will be more by the time the money is to be presented to the Marin Music Teachers Assn. at their April 23 meeting.

Said Mrs. Christensen, "Mrs. Trusty taught my daughter for five years, and I always felt that Cheryl received much more than just music from this devoted woman."

"Since Mrs. Trusty was so actively interested in the Marin Music Teachers Assn., I decided to set up the memorial scholarship fund in her name to be given by the association to a piano student."

A native of Boston, Henrietta Trusty was interested in music and dancing from an early age and danced in the Boston Opera Ballet. She studied piano at the New England Conservatory of Music.

She taught piano for all of her 25 years in Marin. Several of her pupils won music scholarships.

Permit Asked For Gangway, Dredging

Norman J. Clark, who plans to build an 11-unit apartment house next to Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur, has applied for an Army permit to construct a gangway and float and do dredging on the south side of the creek.

Clark's application to the Army Corps of Engineers calls for the float to be about 45 feet channelward of mean higher high water line.

The dredging would be to a maximum depth of four feet below mean lower low water. About 400 cubic yards of dredged material would be placed shoreward of the float.

The Larkspur Planning Commission on Feb. 27 approved construction of the apartment house, pending approval by the corps of engineers. The structure would be built on former location of an ark on Boardwalk 2 and would have facilities for boats.

Clark is the first of five ark owners on Larkspur Boardwalk 2 who voiced desire to build apartment houses on their property last November. Clark's lot is approximately 25,000 square feet.

Objections to Clark's request to the Army may be filed with Col. John A. Morrison, District Engineer, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco by May 5.

Eight Young Men, Four Juveniles Arrested—Drinking Beer, Wine

Sheriff's officers arrested eight young men and four juvenile boys early yesterday after they found them in the home of a 17-year-old boy drinking beer and wine.

The officers answered a disturbance complaint from a Mill Valley man who reported the party under way in his neighborhood. The youths attempted to hide bottles of beer and wine when the officers entered the house.

Booked in the county jail on alcoholic beverage violation charges were:

Placed in the county juvenile hall were two 17-year-olds, one 16-year-old and one 15-year-old.

The eight men, with the exception of Riordan, were freed on $525 bail each to appear in municipal court Wednesday. Riordan, also freed on $525 bail, was to appear in court this afternoon.

Man Dies Of Seizure While Digging Clams

A 48-year-old El Cerrito man died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, while digging clams at Drake's Beach in West Marin.

Clyde Roy Jarvis collapsed and died while digging with his son-in-law, Richard Allan Carlson of Santa Clara, at about 9 a.m.

Chief Deputy Coroner William C. Bradley said Jarvis lapsed into a coma on the mud flats after complaining of a feeling tired. Carlson tried without success to revive Jarvis with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

An unidentified woman called Marin County firemen, sheriff's deputies and fish and game officials, Bradley said.

Firemen attempted to revive Jarvis with a resuscitator without success. He was pronounced dead at 9:43 a.m. A Coast Guard helicopter moved the body to dry land. It was then taken to Chapel of the Hills Mortuary in San Anselmo.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity. As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

- (1) COLONOID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain.
- (2) COLONOID's unique rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles.
- (3) And COLONOID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Secret Satellite In Orbit

POINT ARGUELLO (UPI)—The Air Force today successfully launched a top-secret satellite, believed to be a Midas or Samos "sky spy."

The satellite was boosted into orbit by a powerful Atlas Agenda-B booster combination.

As has been the procedure on previous similar shots, the Air Force would neither confirm nor deny that the satellite was a "sky spy." An Air Force spokesman said the department of defense had imposed a policy of no longer using popular names on missile projects.

However, in its terse announcement on the hush-hush firing, the Air Force said the satellite, almost certainly one of the two U. S. sky spies, was carrying a number of test components, some of which were classified. The Air Force would not indicate orbital path of the satellite, which could provide a clue on whether it was the Midas or Samos.

One of the experiments included an unclassified proton damage experiment. The proton is a nuclear constituent of many of the elements. No details were given pending the analyzing of data.

The firing was closed to the press.

Previously, Midas and Samos vehicles have been fired from this Pacific missile range base.

The Samos carries extremely sensitive photographic equipment which could detect military installations anywhere on the earth. The Midas is designed to detect enemy missile firings to give the United States additional warning time in the event of an impending missile attack.

Two Teen-Age Boys Arrested For Breaking Into Seminary

Two teen-age boys were arrested yesterday for breaking into San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and a third boy was cited for vandalism on the campus.

Two boys, 13 and 14, armed with switchblade knives, entered Scott Hall at 1:30 p.m. after mutilating a parking sign and cutting telephone lines at the rear of the building, said Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

He said the two boys admitted forcing open classroom doors, rifling desks, and overturning filing cabinets. He said that they also admitted taking a set of keys to the building.

Both boys were arrested for burglary and taken to Juvenile Hall.

The third boy, also 13, was cited for malicious mischief when he admitted helping to mutilate the parking sign, the chief reported.

The arrests came after a resident of the area noticed the boys loitering near the building and notified police.

The boys are all residents of San Anselmo.

Four At Atomic Plant Exposed To Radiation

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Three men remained hospitalized today after being exposed to a burst of radioactivity at the Hanford Atomic Works. A fourth man was released yesterday.

Doctors said the men were in good condition and showed "no clinical evidence of radiation injury."

H. B. Lindberg, a public information officer for the General Electric Co., said they were expected to remain in the hospital for a few days for observation.

The accident occurred Saturday when an overconcentration of fissionable material collected in a waste tank. It was the first such accident in the 18-year history of the plant, operated by G. E. for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lindberg said the cause has not been determined. He said the four men, working near the tank, were exposed to gamma rays and neutrons. About 16 other men in the same building were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

Exclusive Commercial Zone On Tap

The Novato Planning Commission will hold public hearings on a land division ordinance and an exclusive commercial district at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

The land division ordinance deals with subdivisions of two or three lots, which do not come under the subdivision act.

The second ordinance would create a zone restricted to commercial uses only. Other uses are now allowed in the regular commercial zone.

Two requests to rezone from limited agriculture to multiple family are before the commission. Crown Development Co. asks that approximately nine acres adjacent to Rancho Village be zoned for apartments. Sutter Development Co. is making a similar request for approximately nine acres west of Highway 101 and north of the Crossroads Shopping Center at South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101.

Job Placements Up In County

There are more jobs available in Marin County now than at this time last year, the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment reports.

Unemployment insurance claims were filed at the rate of 960 a week last month, as compared to 1,215 a week during March, 1961. This decrease of about 26 per cent is partly due to more construction in the county, said Edwin W. Ayer, office manager.

Job placements have increased 67 per cent over this time last year, or 532 jobs found last month as compared to 317 in March, 1961.

$65-Million Sonoma College Plan Tentatively Approved

A campus master plan consisting of six quadrangles to cost 65 million dollars for Sonoma State College was tentatively approved by trustees of the California State Colleges Friday.

The San Francisco architectural firm of John Carl Warnecke and Associates prepared the plan.

The college presently has 275 students in classes at facilities in Cotati-Rohnert Park, halfway between Santa Rosa and Petaluma on Highway 101. Trustees expect the permanent campus one and one-half miles east of the present temporary location to have 3,400 students by 1972 and 12,000 by 1985.

The campus plan, tentatively approved at a meeting in Los Angeles, includes five quadrangles to serve as academic, science, fine arts, physical education and administration centers. A sixth quadrangle would provide for expansion of academic and science areas.

The State Division of Architects will begin drawing plans immediately, the college business office said.

It was estimated that the first two buildings, for classrooms and science, would be completed by the fall of 1965. They are planned as three-story structures with total gross area of about 200,000 square feet.

Three high-rise dormitory buildings to house 3,000 students are planned for the edge of the campus.

Campus officials estimated the move to the permanent site would be made in late 1969.

A lake of about three acres near an outdoor eating area would adorn the entrance to the new campus, trustees were told.

Pianist, 17, Has Personal Triumph With Schumann Piano Concerto

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's spring concert of the Marin Youth Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi was largely a personal triumph for 17-year-old Mary Larson. But the 60-some young people in the orchestra gave a splendid performance, too.

Called to the stage of Angelico Hall in San Rafael time after time in recognition of her performance of Schumann's Piano Concerto in A Minor, Miss Larson thoroughly deserved the acclaim of the fair-sized audience.

In this concerto, which is not only one of Schumann's greatest works but one of the supreme concertos in all piano literature, the young artist revealed a sensitive musical insight. Her touch had precise clarity and a full bodied singing tone and a power and authority not often achieved by a young girl.

Other personal honors went to concertmaster Sharon Johnson and to Rinaldi for his fine training of these young musicians whose playing would compare favorably to that of a much more mature group. This was especially evident in the opening Tancredi overture by Rossini and the Symphony No. 2 by Vittorio Giannini.

In both of these works the brass choir was notable for robust yet—for the most part—clear tone.

The Symphony No. 2 in the modern idiom was an interesting departure from the type of composition usually done by young orchestras, and it was given an excitingly dynamic reading.

The concerto for strings by Carlo Ricciotti had a few rough spots but on the whole was enjoyable, with the first and second violins playing some lovely sustained legato in the grave movements. And the tone of the low voiced cellos was rich and mellow enough to help make up for the lack of violas.

Dixie Employees Form Association

Classified employees of the Dixie School District have organized a new chapter of the California School Employees Assn. and have named Mrs. Augusta Cunningham as temporary president.

Dixie Chapter 341 will include secretaries, clerks, janitors, bus drivers, gardeners and cafeteria workers. The new chapter will meet April 17 to elect permanent officers.

Poll On Marine World Show It's Disliked

The Mill Valley Citizens Advisory committee announced today that first results in a popularity poll on the Marin World proposal shows the project out of favor by a two-thirds vote.

The committee, headed by Dr. J. Alfred Rider, president, has sent 3,000 postcards to Mill Valley residents.

With 482 postcards returned, the results show that 145 are in favor of Marine World, or 30.1 per cent, and 306 against, or 63.5 per cent. Uncommitted, said Dr. Rider, are 31 or 6.4 per cent.

In a second question, residents indicated they favor single family dwellings over apartments. There were 408 who favor single family dwellings, 20 who favor apartments, and 54 uncommitted.

The committee, which defines itself as non-political, was formed in February to advise on preservation and improvement of the community.

Narcotics Violator Stabbed At Quentin

San Quentin Prison's recurrent problem of narcotics smuggling once more came into question today as investigation was launched into the stabbing yesterday of a 27-year-old narcotics violator in the main yard.

Javino Rodriguez, the victim, was reported in good condition at the prison hospital despite two stab wounds in the back. He claimed to know nothing of who attacked him.

Rodriguez entered San Quentin only last Feb. 2, since then he had been a worker in the prison laundry.

Dr. Homer J. Hastings, duty officer at the time, said Rodriguez walked some 120 yards to report to the yard officer that he had been stabbed. If there were any eye-witnesses they were keeping it to themselves.

Former Policeman Gets Prison Term

A state prison term of one March 12.

year to life, to be served concurrently with two sentences of one to 15 years, was pronounced for former San Rafael Policeman Arthur M. Newman today in Marin Superior Court.

Newman, 34, was sentenced for conspiracy to robbery in the second degree of the Purity Store in San Rafael's Northgate Center on Sept. 18, 1961; second degree burglary of the same store April 25, 1961 and second degree burglary of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael Aug. 21, 1961.

Newman pleaded guilty on

The sentences were made concurrent after Probation Officer James Cooper said he had been told by a member of the State Adult Authority that Newman probably would serve a minimum of three years whether the terms ran concurrently or consecutively. The probation department and district attorney's office made no recommendations on this phase of sentencing.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety moved dismissal of seven other charges. Judge Keating granted the motion.

Architect Rolland Hammond Found Dead Of Gun Wound

The body of Rolland Brook Hammond, 44-year-old San Rafael architect, was found in the grass on the southern slope of Strawberry Point Saturday.

Joe Loos of San Francisco found the body and called sheriff's officers after driving to San Francisco.

Hammond had been shot in the head with a 410-gauge shotgun. He was lying on top of the shotgun when found. Chief Deputy Coroner William C. Bradley listed the death as apparently suicide.

About 50 feet from the body was Hammond's car, with a box of shells inside, two cartridges missing. An undischarged shell and an empty shell were found in the barrel of the shotgun, sheriff's officers reported.

Hammond was reported missing by his attorney, Stephen H. Kaufmann of Strawberry, Thursday evening. The sheriff's office put out an all-points bulletin Friday evening.

Deputy Coroner Bradley reported the keys to Hammond's car were found on the floor of the vehicle. Bradley said there was no note left behind.

Hammond's office was at 530 Third Street, San Rafael. He had resided at 108 Inez Street, Mill Valley.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth, and three children, John, 16, Rebecca, 13, and Jennifer, 8.

'Dope' Charge Leads To Arrest In Bar

Husband Says Wife Becoming An Addict

Charges by a San Rafael husband that his wife was being made a dope addict by another man led to the arrest Friday of George Arcadievtch Iakovkin, 34, a former inmate of Napa State Hospital.

Iakovkin, resident of the Lincoln Hotel at 805 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was arrested about 6 p.m. Friday in the Pago Pago Bar next door to the hotel on a charge of disturbing the peace.

When he was stripped and searched at the county jail, an eight-inch-long knife was discovered inside his waist band. He was held in lieu of $2,362 bail on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon.

San Rafael police, said Thomas Jefferson McClain of 41 Meadow Avenue, reported about 2:30 p.m. Friday that he had been threatened by Iakovkin. McClain said he and his wife, Betty Jean Koberg McClain, were being divorced. For the past several months, McClain said, Iakovkin had been giving Mrs. McClain "white pills." She had become an addict, he told police.

A warrant for Iakovkin's arrest was drawn up by the district attorney's office on McClain's charges.

Mrs. McClain was in the bar with Iakovkin when he was arrested, police said. Three packages of pills, found on his person when he was booked, were held for identification. The prisoner said the pills were "for a bad stomach."

Iakovkin was placed on one-year probation for assault in 1957 and was committed to Napa briefly in 1959.

Sunny Skies, Many Wrecks

Three 13-year-olds escaped with minor injuries in a two-car crash Saturday on East Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael.

The three were riding in a car driven by Buddy David Griffin, 19, of 101 DuBois Street, San Rafael. Griffin was westbound on Francisco Boulevard near Hoag Street when a car driven by Lawrence Marvin Schonauer, 56, of 40 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael, turned in front of him, he told police.

His three passengers were Jack Edward Miller of 269 Woodland Avenue; Linda Louise Dotto of 514 C Street, and Judy Nancy Patrick of 268 Woodland Avenue, all San Rafael. All were treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts, scrapes and bruises.

The accident was one of many as drivers took to the road in large numbers in warm, sunny weather. Several resulted in injuries. Among them were these:

Judith Frances Vantrease, 23, of San Francisco, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after a spill from a motor scooter yesterday at 12:40 p.m. on the Sausalito lateral.

Miss Vantrease suffered head injuries and multiple scrapes and bruises. She told highway patrol officers her eastbound motor scooter went out of control as she attempted to make a left turn.

George V. Neuman, 50, of San Francisco, suffered minor injuries when a car in which he was riding, driven by Naftali Cymet, 48, of San Francisco, collided with another car on Highway 101 about 200 feet north of the Hamilton Air Force Base main gate yesterday at 8:30 a.m.

The second driver, James Henry Elrod, 35, of Richmond, told California Highway patrolmen he was changing lanes to pick up a hitch-hiker.

A boy riding a bicycle on Shoreline Highway yesterday glanced around to find an overtaking automobile "right on top of me," he told the California Highway Patrol. But the car was almost halted and though he was tossed against its windshield he was hardly hurt.

The boy was David L. Wagner, 15-year-old Redwood High School student of 77 Bolinas Avenue, Ross. He was northbound, a mile south of Olema, between two other bike-riding friends.

Norman Colteaux of 45 Angela Drive, San Anselmo, a mail carrier, was driving the car. Though bruised, young Wagner declined hospitalization.

A 25-year-old Petaluma man suffered head cuts after he lost control of his motorcycle and crashed on Lincoln Avenue about 100 feet from Hammond Court Saturday noon.

San Rafael police reported Julian Lee Keen was riding his cycle when it left the road and crashed to the pavement. Keen was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for scalp cuts.

Battery Stolen

Larry D. Van Aman of 11 Lodge Lane, San Rafael, told San Rafael police Saturday his battery was stolen from his auto while it was parked in front of his house.

Vote Tomorrow, Or Forever Refrain From Criticism

Once upon a time, before electronics and space exploration, a scientist was certain that the moon was inhabited. He decided it would be possible to establish communication with moonfolk.

His plan was elementary—have every person on earth shout for 10 seconds. Kings and potentates took to the idea. One may have been Alexander the Great, then bemoaning lack of more worlds to conquer.

Time was synchronized throughout our sphere so all could shout at the same time. Then came the count-down; then—silence.

Recapitulation revealed that only three people shouted; two Hottentots in Africa, and a deaf old lady. Everyone else chose to listen. They damned failure of the experiment to the extent of boiling the scientist in oil—even though they had remained silent.

Tomorrow, nine Marin County municipalities hold elections—all but San Rafael. Also, Mill Valley votes on a school tax rise. There are contests in all communities except Ross. Continuation of population growth imposes great problems upon each city; problems calling for solution by the best qualified men and women comprising these cities' governing boards. The time for such important decisions and action is NOW.

Instead of shouting at the moon, all a registered voter is required to do is go to his polling place, and cast his ballot for the candidates of his choice. If the majority do this, we can be assured of capable city officials. If the majority stay away from the polls, it is their duty to remain forever silent, no matter what they think of their city's government or plans promulgated by its elected officials. They neglected their duty.

Save The Blessing Of Vision

More than 10 million persons in this world are totally blind. Of these, 356,000 are in the United States, plus an additional 1.5 million have one sightless eye. Lost productivity in the nation due to eye disorders is estimated at $3.5 billion. It costs $1.3 billion yearly for care of Americans with disordered vision.

—And it is estimated that two-thirds of all blindness is preventable.

This is World Health Week, the World Health Organization stresses, among other things, prevention and treatment of blindness. Business, civic and fraternal groups are calling attention to better health in general, and better vision in particular. The United Nations-sponsored observance merits careful study and individual action by everyone.

ANGRY BEES STING WHERE THEY CAN
A truck loaded with 200 beehives overturned outside Melrose, N. M. Greatly upset, 3 million bees went on the warpath.

Thick clouds of bees swarmed over U.S. Highway 60 as volunteer firemen and State Police struggled to reopen the road.

By the time they had hosed down the bees and pushed the hives off the road, the owner of the shipment had been bitten about 100 times. The volunteers, who came equipped with masks—but in short-sleeved shirts—got stung nearly as badly themselves.

An old saying runs, "He who would sup with the Devil had best use a long spoon."

Anyone who is called upon to do difficult work, whether in fighting bees or strengthening government, has to reckon the consequences with some careful forethought.

20 YEARS AGO

Following a visit to the Golden Gate Bridge, a San Francisco legislative delegation expressed readiness to propose to the legislature that the span be brought under management of the State Division of Highways.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Second Bridge To Treasure Isle

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Due in large part to the inadequacy of its approaches from both San Francisco and Marin County, the Golden Gate Bridge cannot handle peak-hour commute traffic now, nor will it be able to in the future. Each month, the problem of getting to work within a reasonable time grows worse.

However, with a substantial, permanent reduction in Northern Marin's commuter traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, Southern Marin commuters would again be able to enjoy the bridge, rather than be angered by it. And this would reduce urgency for a rapid transit system for some years to come.

Since 90 per cent of Marin's population lives within a five-mile radius of Marin General Hospital, and most of the county's improved residential property lies north of San Rafael, present and future need for a rapid transit system to serve Northern Marin, plus southern parts of Napa and Sonoma counties seems obvious.

With this in mind, it might be worthwhile for transportation experts to study feasibility of a bridge from a San Francisco terminus north of the present Bay Bridge to a Treasure Island terminus, well north of where the Bay Bridge meets Treasure Island. This would connect with a causeway or land barrier, running due north from Treasure Island to Point Richmond; connecting with the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

The latter bridge, together with the proposed bridge and causeway could carry rapid transit facilities to service Northern Marin and southern Napa and Sonoma counties. They could also carry vehicular traffic between San Francisco and Northern Marin as well as traffic between San Francisco and the Richmond-Berkeley area.

The plan might also substitute for the projected tube transit crossing between San Francisco and Alameda Counties. The proposed barrier could connect with a second filled causeway due east from the north end of Treasure Island to Alameda County. Under the Toll Bridge Authority Act, the Authority would be permitted to issue toll revenue bonds to finance necessary construction.

These proposed causeways—except for a short distance north of Treasure Island—cross no shipping lanes. East of the suggested Point Richmond causeway are shallow tidelands. Most fill would be in water from five to 15 feet deep. Whether the proposed bridge should extend for a short distance north of Treasure Island until the 25-foot depth shoals to 15 feet or less would be decided by engineering studies.

A large percentage of Northern Marin commuters are employed in San Francisco's financial district. Thus, the distance to San Rafael and Northern Marin is comparable to the distance of the present travel route. But even by car, it should take much less time. A minimum of 15 minutes is now required between the financial district and Golden Gate plaza during commute hours. It would be about 10 miles from the Embarcadero to the Richmond terminus of the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge under the proposed route.

Splitting Marin's commuter traffic between the Golden Gate Bridge and this suggested route would relieve San Francisco and Marin congestion. It should also provide a method of bringing rapid transit into Northern Marin and southern Napa and Sonoma Counties.

At such time as the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge traffic approaches capacity, construction of a second bridge between Point San Pablo and Point San Pedro should be considered.

Americans Didn't Invent Liberty

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal

You recently published another of a series of articles by Dr. Richmond Barbour in which he unholds his belief that our children should be taught in our schools to be fanatic patriots, rather than citizens of the world.

There are other statements of persons concerned with education to consider. Grayson Kirk, President of Columbia University, is quoted as saying: "Our greatest obligation to our children is to prepare them to understand and to deal effectively with the world in which they will live and not the world we have known or the world we would prefer to have."

James P. Warburg, a former banker who was in charge of American propaganda policy in the European theater in World War II, makes the point that our educational system and our emphasis on "Americanism" was developed during a period in our history when unrestricted immigration caused a desire on the part of both the older inhabitants and the newly arrived to weld themselves into a cohesive group. This was in a time when we were virtually self-contained and had little involvement in world affairs.

But now, he says, "when the destiny of the United States is inextricably involved in that of other nations, when all nations are becoming more and more interdependent, and when peace has become indivisible, the aim of our educational system should be not merely to create good Americans, but to create responsible citizens of the world."

It might be well for us to remember that we Americans did not invent the idea of liberty, and that we are indebted for much of our vigor to a blending of the differences which have come to us from individuals of many nationalities.

If our nation, composed of persons of English, French, Scandinavian, Russian, Chinese, Japanese, Italian, African, Spanish, German origin can become a strong and compatible group, why cannot we encourage the world community to do the same and take equal pride in the accomplishment?

IT'S THE FLAVOR of politics that I like. The pepper. You slip through two years of time with the politicians cool and collected. Then, at election's outset, these guys go crazy. It's like love. You can't count on it.

Jimmie Quinn, an Irishman three-quarters of a century of age, says he has never fooled with politics because "I can't read nor write." We said we didn't think this was important.

Contrarywise, Manuel Gomez adores politics. He says, while whereas the City Council of Mill Valley talks politics twice a month from 8 p.m. to midnight, "I have political talks in my shop every day from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m." The bombastic jeweler, who has been called "the Mayor of Lytton Square," says people call him at home, "even the councilmen."

"My store windows are always used for all city councilman candidate signs," he added.

NO MATTER, the weather is good for politics. Mrs. E. C. Rand remarked the other day: "What a beautiful day it is. Isn't it too bad that people can't purr?"

The oaks are getting bloom tassels, the eucalyptus are with red leaves and the apple tree is starting to leaf. A very special thing, an apple tree.

Maybe because of spring a bird flew into the Carousel in Mill Valley the other day and sat on the coffee counter. Owner Paul Sukey picked him up and put him outside again in a bush. The bird in the bush flew right back in and sat on the ice cream freezer. Putting him out again, Sukey said to Nancy Roach, "I think he likes my place."

NEXT DOOR, Roger Murphy complains that, since the redwoods are growing tall with sun in the middle of the square, Murphy can't watch his competitor, Larry Mayer's shop across the way.

Mrs. Carlos Nelson, new president of Muir Woods Post

6741, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, was described in a story as an avid card player, "especially of whist and canasta." But, by some strange occurrence, only understood by those who know of the human error, it came out in print, "She is an avid twist and canasta player."

Tiburon's first big pumper, a White Truck, came home from the San Rafael painters the other day painted, not red, but white. On display before the station and brilliant in the sun, Tiburoners came from all around to gape and comment.

"It sure shows up," said some. "Makes the truck look bigger," said others. ex-chief Dick Williamson and Charles Pastori Sr., one of the original Tiburon firemen, said "It's real good." A rebel asked "Somebody going to start an ambulance service?" to genial Capt. Charles Pruett. He calmly said, "We like it."

NEWSPAPER BOY Doug Draper always carried the I-J accompanied by his dog, Duke, a golden retriever. When Doug gave up his route recently, it was only natural that the new carrier, Pat Shannon, should be followed around the route by the dog that had grown accustomed to the paper route—Duke.

The other day we accompanied a boy, a real tough boy, to the office of Dr. T. G. Brown, where the boy was to get an anti-measles shot. Neither the boy nor the father really wanted to get that shot.

But, inside the waiting room were several more dramas and one, though we didn't speak, was close to the heart. There was this tiny guy, heavy with tears, carrying a large man-sized tennis racket with but two strings.

He was Jeff Goldfine, who had a recent tonsilectomy and was getting a throat check. He had had enough of doctors for a while. Said the nurse: "The racket was more of a defense than a hobby."

Both U.S., Latin America Censure Progress Alliance; Reasons Differ

WASHINGTON — The Alliance for Progress, the last best hope of rescuing Latin America from the forces of chaos and communism, is right now being more censured than loved.

It has tremendous potential. It decisively aligns the United States with social and economic reform, necessary and urgent.

IT IS PREMATURE to talk about its success. That can be decided only when we are further down the road. Real issue is whether this vast enterprise in economic aid and self-help is getting off the ground. Candidly, at this stage AFP is a lovely blueprint; so painfully slow in coming to life that many wonder whether it will be able to do its work in time.

The Latin American governments almost unanimously declare Washington dilatory in establishing policies and administering machinery. Washington blames the Latin American governments for not taking even the first steps towards reform they agreed must accompany the Alliance.

THERE ARE extenuating circumstances. Fowler Hamilton, head of the AID agency, found his organization well-equipped to manage a technical assistance program but poorly equipped to manage a loan and development program. It is understandably taking him time to recruit staff and establish policy guidelines.

Many Latin American countries have been slow in providing basic economic information without which the U.S. cannot possibly approve development projects. Also, there is deep resistance in much of Latin America to beginning reforms to which the governments are committed.

This last fact puts a difficult but urgent decision in the laps of American policymakers: Should Latin American countries receive AFP aid only after they have completed internal reforms or should emergency aid be provided as the necessary stimulus to such reform?

The U.S. answer to this question is taking shape. I expect it will be along these lines:

ALL-THE-WAY internal reform will not be as mandatory. Some projects which will help promote reform by improving the political climate will almost certainly be approved.

But then will come the real test of whether the Alliance is going to be courageously administered. That will be over our willingness to hold back AFP loans from any country in which internal reform is not moving ahead.

Play Ball! 1962 Pennant Races Begin Today, Tomorrow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There wasn't a pessimistic manager in the pennant picture as major league baseball opened the 1962 season on two fronts today with the other openers to follow tomorrow.

Traditionally, the American League staged its inaugural in Washington, D. C., where the Senators launched the season in spanking new 43,500-capacity District of Columbia Stadium. The Detroit Tigers provided the opposition.

After President Kennedy tossed out the first ball, Bennie Daniels, a right-hander, took the mound for the Senators.

He was opposed by southpaw Don Mossi.

Another capacity crowd attended the National League's sneak preview at Cincinnati's Crosley Field, where the defending champion Reds take on the Philadelphia Phillies. Joey Jay was to pitch for the Reds, against the Phillies' Art Mahaffey.

The other clubs swing into action tomorrow.

For the first time since 1889, the National League will field 10 teams, thus joining the American in an expansion program that eventually may be enlarged to either two 12-team leagues or three eight-team leagues.

In addition to presenting two new teams in Houston and New York, the majors will unveil three new stadiums—in Los Angeles, Washington and Houston—four new managers and dozens of new faces which the owners hope will keep the turnstiles clicking through 162-game programs.

The pennant races, of course, hold the greatest interest, but a great deal of attention will be paid to individual players with the fans hoping to witness another stirring home run duel similar to the power shown last year by Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' slugging twins. Maris topped Babe Ruth's hallowed 154-game record of 60 home runs but he needed 162 games.

The experts have picked the Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers as the teams to beat. The Yankees, winners of 11 pennants in the last 13 years, are an overwhelming favorite in the American League. At least four teams—San Francisco, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Cincinnati—are given a good chance to pull an upset in the National, where another wide-open race seems to be in the offing.

The Dodgers have the overall talent, the Giants have the power, and the Reds the pitching. The Cards, tabbed as a dark horse by many observers, probably are the most improved over last year.

The two new National League managers, Harry Craft at Houston and Casey Stengel at New York, don't figure to maneuver their teams higher than seventh place, a remarkable feat if either can do it. The Colts will make their temporary home in a 32,200-seat park until their domed stadium is completed. The Mets will use the refurbished Polo Grounds this season.

New American League managers are Mel McGaha at Cleveland and Billy Hitchcock at Baltimore. Both clubs are expected to figure in the pennant race with the Orioles rated on a par with the Tigers to give the Yankees their sternest opposition.

The Orioles have added John "Boog" Powell, a young man who is expected to supply much needed power to the club. The Indians through off-season trades, have strengthened their pitching staff with the acquisition of Dick Donovan and Pedro Ramos.

The Tigers have the same club as last year while the Yankees have made a change at shortstop because of Tony Kubek's recall to the Army. Tom Fresh, son of Mike Tresh, former major league catcher, has beaten out Phil Linz, another rookie, for the job.

Ralph Houk, who steered the Yankees to a pennant in his first attempt at replacing Stengel in 1961, thinks his team will win again.

"I see no reason why we shouldn't win again," Houk said, "although I'm not taking anything away from the other clubs. Detroit has a strong team while Chicago and Baltimore have improved. However, we are solid everywhere and we are going into the season with a stronger pitching staff than we did last year."

Fred Hutchinson, who did a magnificent job piloting the Reds to a surprise championship last year, thinks his team is capable of repeating despite a crippling injury to third baseman Gene Freese.

"We fooled a lot of experts last year and we may fool 'em again," he said. "Our players are confident and capable."

Giants, Braves, Dodgers Get Top Billing In 'Spectacular' Season

Betwixt and between tomorrow and the dropping of the curtain on the 1962 National League season Sept. 30, more than 1,700,000 people are likely to pass through the turnstiles at Candlestick Park, home of the Giants.

Ten clubs, an increase of two teams over the past seasons, make this pennant race much more interesting, just as exciting and surely a tradition busting affair that before the closing date should be the most spectacular in all its glorious history.

The National League, regarded as the slickest of the two major circuits, is supposed to be better balanced, team for team, than the American League, with the possible exception of the N. Y. Yankees.

To choose a likely winner for 1962 entails a close study of the lineups. And after a full scale checkup, we've decided that three clubs, the Giants, the Milwaukee Braves and the L. A. Dodgers rate top billing.

St. Louis could be the jump off club. By this I mean the Cardinals have a softer starting schedule than either the Giants, Dodgers or Braves. And if they get off flying, they could make it real tough and hard to catch.

CINCINNATI and Pittsburgh rate in the first division. If either team comes back to its potential, it could really raise heck with the favorites.

Philadelphia, Chicago, Houston and the N. Y. Mets rate second division mention but do not sell the Cubs short. I look for them to be pesty. They have power and pitching and too many managers. But they also have the spirit and the desire.

In a schedule that calls for 162 games, it requires a lot of desire, a lot of power, a lot of pitching depth and a lot of true defensive strength. Any club weak in any of these qualities can be sidetracked, whether it is in the start or in the windup.

The Giants, because of such power hitters as Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays, Felipe Alou, Ed Bailey and Willie McCovey, rate pretty high. But the Giants, despite their depth in pitching strength, have not looked impressive.

THERE'S A lot of temperament on the Giant ball club. If it can resolve itself into any sort of co-ordination, it could go all the way. But there is bound to be jealousy, friction and jittery nerves on a club with such a conglomeration of mixed temperaments.

Alvin Dark, sophomore manager of the Giants, may yet live to prove what Leo Durocher predicted two years ago—"nice guys never win."

Dark is a nice guy, studious, gentlemanly and a keen judge of men. But his judgment always isn't the last word. So you have to take into consideration just what amount of control Dark really has over his athletes. He may want to plunge into wheeling and dealing for players but can he swing it?

Dark's managerial traits differ quite decidedly from those of his predecessor—Bill Rigney.

RIGNEY WAS able to project the blame for decisions that he ostensibly made, upon the shoulders of owner Horace MIKE MCCORMICK, Jack Sanford, Juan Marichal and Billy O'Dell truly rate the four starting pitching assignments. They may not get it.

But surely the rest of the staff isn't entitled to it, so all one can do now is to wait and pray that these four are ready. After them anything can happen, even to Billy Pierce making good or Bob Bolin, Jim Duffalo or Don Larsen being spectacular.

I am truly alarmed over the lack of reserve infield strength, outfield strength and bench strength. If the Giants can hope to win they better consider what would happen if Orlando Cepeda got hurt; if Jimmy Davenport fell down; if Jose Pagan flipped and the same for any of the other regulars. The Giants must have help and real honest to goodness help... not just ordinary backup strength.

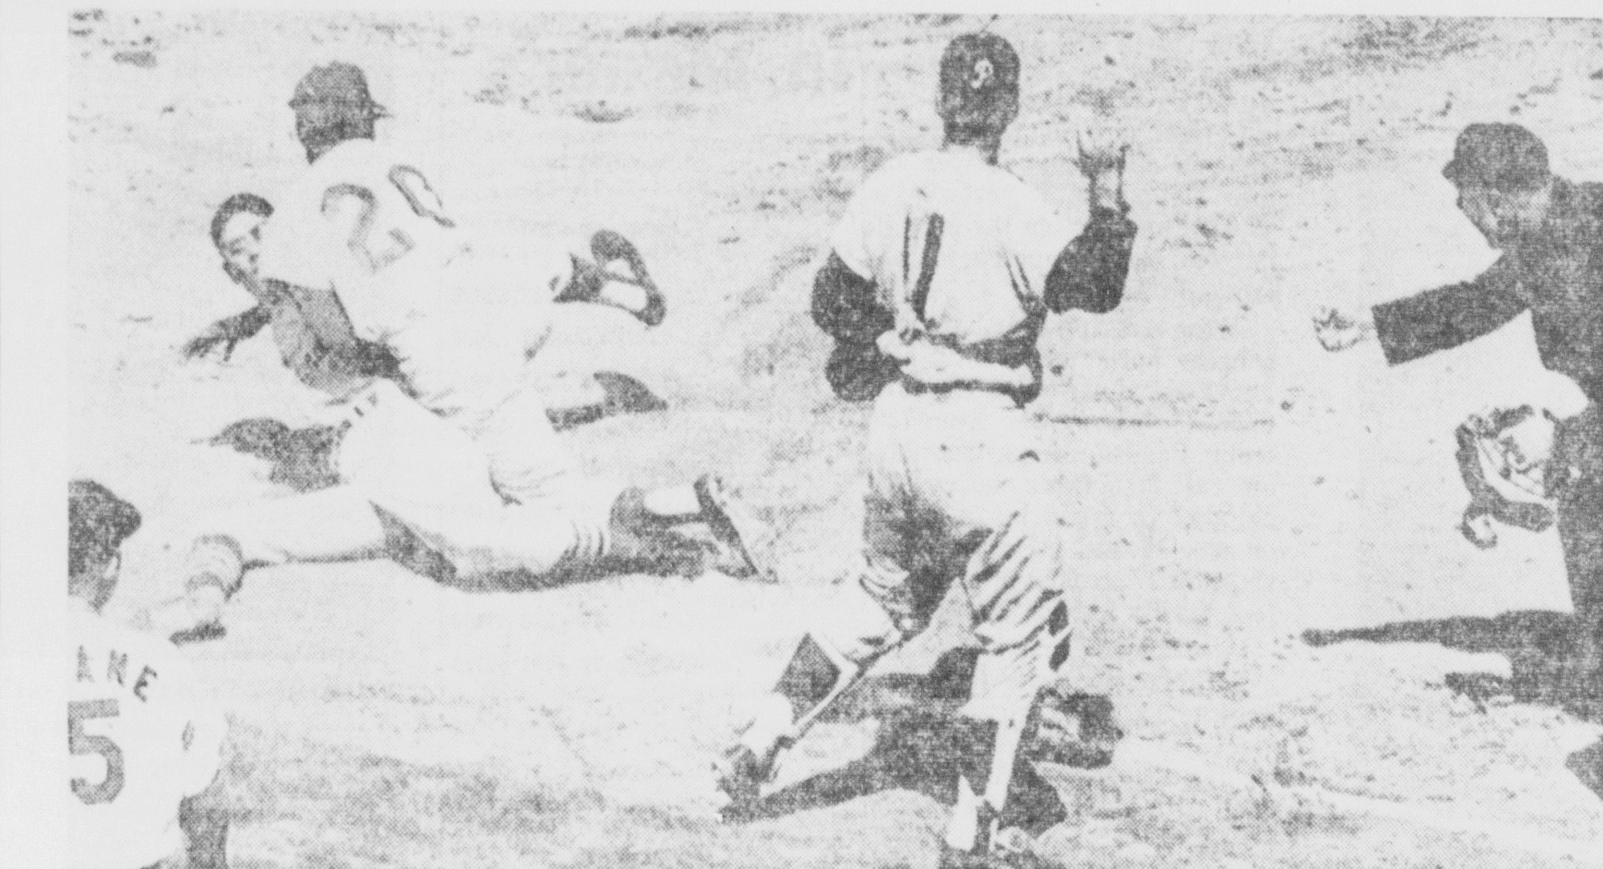

THE FIRST 15 games of the season with the Giants battling the Milwaukee Braves in five games; Cincinnati in six; L. A. in two and Pittsburgh in three, haunt me.

Compare such a kickoff for the Giants against the Cards who meet Chicago, Houston, N. Y. Mets and Phillies, all tail end outfits.

But remember one thing, and this goes whether Horace Stoneham is mad or not: He'll let Chuck Hiller start off the season but I'm sure he'll start wheeling and dealing when convinced the club needs bolstering.

Scholarship Set Up In Honor Of Stagg, Who Is Nearly 100

CHICAGO (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who still does his own lawn mowing in Stockton as he approaches his 100th birthday, now has a scholarship fund set up in his honor at the University of Chicago, where he coached football for 41 years.

The university announced yesterday the establishment of the fund honoring its first football coach and athletic director—the only man to be named to the Hall of Fame for both playing and coaching football.

Proceeds from the fund will finance a full tuition, full room- and-board scholarship for a male member of the university's senior class. Lawrence A. Kimpton, former university chancellor, made the first contribution to the fund.

San Jose Ends Its Training With Win

SANTA JOSE (AP)—San Jose State varsity footballers closed out their spring practice Saturday with a gridiron battle with the alumni, the varsity winning 27-15.

Late in the fourth quarter the alumni held a 15-11 lead. Then the varsity marched 60 yards to score the go-ahead touchdown.

At nearby Santa Clara University, the varsity ended its spring training session with a 6-0 victory in a football game that was of two quarters duration. The alums didn't think they could last the complete four.

Santa Clara junior Gene Ashton scored the lone touchdown with a 38-yard run.

Tars Post Another Conference Upset

The College of Marin baseball team did it again this past weekend.

They split—for the second weekend in a row—a double-header with a powerhouse of the Golden Valley Conference.

Coach Ed Grimm's Tars are becoming less and less the underdogs as they got against the GVC's pair of favorites Yuba and American River.

Saturday the Mariners handed American River its first defeat of the season by winning the opener 2-1. They also whipped Yuba in the first game of the weekend before last. Saturday the Tars dropped the second game to the Beavers, 6-0.

Marin gathered only three hits in both games, but played alert baseball and did outstanding defensive work in the first game.

Ron Cole of Marin was the winning pitcher of the first game. He struck out six Beavers, walked seven and allowed three hits. American River's hurler struck out 17 Marinites.

WINNING RUNS

The Tars tallied their two runs in the fourth frame after Lynn Livie cracked out a double and continued to third on a Beaver error. The rattled mound man walked Jerry Ard, who later stole second to draw the catcher's inaccurate throw to second and Livie took advantage of the error to score while Ard went to third. A sacrifice by Russ Honeyman of Marin drove in Ard for Marin's final and winning run. American River picked up its single count on a free ride from Cole when the bases were loaded in the bottom of the ninth. Cole kept his nerve, however, and retired the side before any more damage.

Bob Ostaggi doubled and singled in the second game to give Marin its only other hits of the day. The Beavers racked up two of their six runs on one of Marin's four costly errors of the contest and on two weak hits: Bill Finn was the starting pitcher. He went five innings and allowed four hits. Russ Honeyman completed the mound game for Marin. He also gave up four hits.

Marin's first game and American River's second game victories gave the league leading Beavers a blemished 4-1 record. Marin has a 3-3 count.

Woody Hayes Is '63 Shrine Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Woody Hayes, head football coach at Ohio State, has been named head coach of the East Shrine team which will face the West at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium next Dec. 29.

His selection was announced yesterday by William M. Coffman, the game's managing director. Other members of the east coaching staff will be Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Frank Howard of Clemson.

Hayes, who fielded a winning east team in the 1955 Shrine classic, has coached Ohio State to four Big Ten titles, two national championships and two Rose Bowl victories.

Cepeda O.K. For Opener

San Francisco Giants, surprising third-placers last year, open their National League campaign tomorrow against Milwaukee, another club with strong power and question mark pitching.

Ageless Warren Spahn, hard-hit in spring training this year, will pitch for the Braves against Juan Marichal, San Francisco's new No. 1 starter.

A sellout crowd of 42,500 is expected for the opening of Candlestick Park's third season and the Giants' fifth in San Francisco.

Experts concede the National League race is a dead-even six team affair—but many have picked the Giants to win, apparently because Manager Alvin Dark has a year of experience and the pitching was supposedly strengthened with the acquisition of Don Larsen and Billy Pierce from the Chicago White Sox.

Otherwise, the Giants of 1961 and 1962 are about the same.

Milwaukee, with ex-Vice President Birdie Tebbets back on the field as manager, has a potent power punch with Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock. The Braves led the league in home runs last year with 183.

The Braves are depending on the return of catcher Del Crandall to help them better last year's fourth place finish. Crandall was out with a bad shoulder after several seasons as the loop's top receiver.

The Giants brought their exhibition baseball play to an end Sunday after a 4-4 tie game with the Cleveland Indians which sent Giants' star first baseman, Orlando Cepeda, limping off the field at Salt Lake City.

Cepeda wrenched his right knee during a collision at home plate as he was scoring the tying run in the sixth inning.

But there was good news in the clubhouse, where trainer Frankie Bowman slapped ice packs on the injured knee. Cepeda stood up and began to limp gingerly.

"It no hurt now," said Cepeda. "Look, I walk okay, Si?"

Bowman said Cepeda can expect a slightly swollen knee but will be able to take his post in the lineup tomorrow for the season opener.

Yesterday's game was called after six and a half innings because of rain. Jack Sanford and Mike McCormick shared pitching chores for the Giants.

The tie left San Francisco's spring training mark at an inauspicious 13-13-2, giving superstitious fans something to think about.

Long Beach Crew Upsets Cocky Cal

OAKLAND (AP)—California crew coach Jim Lemon doesn't figure to underestimate any more opponents on the 1962 schedule.

Lemon had only praise for Long Beach State Saturday but it still was a fact that three Cal lettermen sat ashore as the Bears lost to the invaders by 3 lengths in a major upset.

Cal is the defending collegiate champion, and hardly figured to lose. Long Beach led the two mile Oakland Estuary race most of the way and finished in 9:56.8 to the Bears' 10:10.

Across the bay at Redwood City, Stanford came from behind to edge Oregon State by 18 inches in a 2,000 meter race. UCLA was third and Southern California fourth. The winning time was 5:34.0.

The Beavers led for 1,000 meters. But Stanford upped its stroke from 34 to 38 per minute and gradually crept ahead.

Oregon State reversed the finish in the junior varsity race and Stanford handily won the frosh event.

Hunting On Refuges Sought

duck hunters.

"My personal experience," McCarthy said, "has been that the ducks and geese still fly out at sundown and feed all night on farmers' crops. Then, when hunters go to their blinds—before the legal shooting hour—they flush like blackbirds, rise beyond rifle range and head for the nearest refuge."

Under the present situation, the senator said, "license fees, ammunition costs and all other expenses go up and opportunity goes down, particularly for the man who can't afford to belong to a duck club."

McCarthy said the proposed commission would be composed of two senators, two assemblymen and representatives of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, the State Fish and Game Commission, the California Wildlife Federation and the Audubon Society.

GIANTS MAY SHIP MIKE TO ARIZONA

Mike McCormick, a disappointment in spring training, won't pitch for the San Francisco Giants until his left arm loosens and he can throw hard again.

That was the somber word from Manager Alvin Dark on the National League team's return from spring training last night.

McCormick won't even work the bullpen, Dark said. He'll be used in batting practice only until he gets his hard, fast delivery back, the manager declared, and may be sent to the club's minor league training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz.

Loss of McCormick is a blow to Giant pennant hopes. He was expected to be one of the regular Giant starters. The 23-year-old slipped from a 15-12 record in 1960 to 13-16 last year.

Rare Playoff In Masters Tourney

$20,000 Prize: Palmer, Player, Finsterwald?

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, who again has proven he is the game's greatest pressure player, was favored over Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald in today's 18-hole playoff for the 26th Master golf championship.

No less an authority than Player, the little defending champion from South Africa, made that appraisal of the dramatic windup head-to-head battle.

"Personally, I feel that on this course, his distance off the tee gives Arnie an advantage," Player said. "But you never know what will happen in a round of golf. I'm not giving up."

Palmer, leading Finsterwald by two shots and Player by four going into yesterday's fourth round, made the playoff only by staging another of his fantastic finishes.

After straying tee shots and a balky putter apparently had knocked Palmer out of the running, the strong boy from Latrobe, Pa., rallied spectacularly on the last three holes. He chipped in for a birdie-deuce on No. 16 and after two fine shots on 17 stroked in an eight-foot beauty for another birdie.

Finsterwald, one of the game's yeomen who is better known for close misses than his 1958 PGA championship victory, already was in by this time with a 73 and 280 total.

Palmer's 75 and Player's 71 forced the Masters into its first three-way playoff.

Neither Palmer, Player or Finsterwald has a very impressive playoff record. In 18-hole playoffs, Palmer has won one and lost two. He has won five and lost one sudden-death affair. Player never has been in an 18-hole match, but lost all four of his sudden-death playoffs. Finsterwald won his only previous 18-hole, and lost three sudden-death battles against one victory.

LITTLE THREAT Only Gene Littler, the current U.S. Open champion, was in the thick of things with the three leaders in the final round. When Finsterwald bogied the 17th hole—and that was a costly bogey—Littler got a birdie and pulled within one shot of the leader. But he bogied the final hole and finished with a 71 and 282.

The 1962 Masters carried a record purse of $109,100. The playoff will determine who gets the $20,000 top prize, second money of $12,000 and third prize of $8,000. Littler got $6,000 for fourth place.

Behind the top four, there was a four-way tie for fifth at 287—Jimmy Demaret, Jerry Barber, Billy Maxwell and Mike Souchak.

Tied at 288—even par for the 6,990-yard Augusta National golf course—were amateur Charles Coe and pro Ken Venturi.

San Rafael Tennis Star Wins North Bay Tournament

Harvey Klyce of San Rafael collected another big gleaming trophy yesterday for his loaded showcase at the North Bay Junior Tennis Tournament in Vallejo.

Klyce, ace of the San Rafael High School squad, teamed up with Jan Kucera to win the boys 18 and under age division doubles title. They defeated Robin Ray and Gordon Miller, 6-3, 6-2 in the finals.

Greg Parkerson, another San Rafael High star, and his partner, Gene Phillips, placed second in the boys 16 and under division.

MANILA — Shigemasa Kawakami, 145, Japan, stopped Roberto Cruz, 145, The Philippines, 3.

West, Baylor Spark Lakers; NBA Playoffs All Tied Up

BOSTON (AP) — Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are sending Los Angeles home all even with Boston in the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

West scored 40 points and Baylor, the Army private on leave, added 36 in a 129-122 victory yesterday which knotted the best-of-seven series at one game apiece. The next games are on the Lakers' court Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

"We came here to win two games but we're happy to leave with a split," said Laker coach Fred Schaus.

He praised Baylor for his play, particularly because he never has a chance to practice with the team and the best he can do while performing his Army duties is to keep in condition. Schaus added that Baylor's timing is off.

Boston coach Red Auerbach lost composure in the losing dressing room concerning Baylor.

Texans Hand Tacoma 8th Exhibition Loss

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast League suffered their eighth loss of the exhibition season yesterday, as they were defeated by San Antonio of the Texas League, 8-2.

The Giants, who were held to five hits, got their runs in the eighth inning on an infield single by Neil Lilson and a pinch homer by Bobby Barton.

AAU Record Breaker Saari Still Wants Prep Victory

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Roy Saari wears three swimming crowns—and holds three American records—but he still has to win a high school championship.

The 17-year-old El Segundo high school senior was voted the outstanding swimmer of the 1962 AAU Indoor Swimming and Diving meet here after he set three freestyle records in three days. The meet ended Saturday.

He has his eye on the 1964 Olympics and rates as America's best prospect for that international competition, but his immediate goal is to win a high school 200-yard race.

Saari explained that he has competed in the 400-yard and the 200-yard freestyle in the state high school meet since he was a sophomore, but had never won the 200-yard.

Saari won the 1,500-yard race Thursday night in a record 16:54.1, then stroked to a record 1:58.6 in the 220-yard event Friday night.

The final night he passed Australian Olympic winner Murray Rose in the last 40 yards to set a record of 4:14.6 in the 440.

Rose and 15-year-old Don Scholander of Santa Clara were clocked in 4:15.0.

The Southern California freshman team and the North Carolina Aquatic Club shared the team crown with 34 points each. The Southern California varsity was second with 32 points.

Saari broke Rose's records—and took his titles—in the 1,500-yard and 440-yard events. He erased the 220-yard mark set last year by Steve Clark of Santa Clara.

Dark Happy With Hitters; Has Reservations About Pitchers

Brown as berries, Alvin Dark and his Giants flew home last night after six weeks under Arizona's sun. They looked fit and Dark officially declared they were ready for tomorrow's 1962 season opener of the 87-year-old National League.

"It was the best spring training I ever attended," said the sophomore manager. "I'm very happy about it."

Concerning the men who must produce the runs — the hitters — Dark declared "everyone came out of Arizona hitting except Jim Davenport, but I'm not worried about our third baseman."

Concerning the pitchers who must keep the enemy from scoring runs, Dark has reservations, not about his first three starters Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford and Billy O'Dell, but with the No. 4 and No. 5 starters.

Mike McCormick tentatively is listed in the No. 4 spot. Jim Duffalo, the rookie Gaylord Perry, and the veteran Billy Pierce have been mentioned for temporary duty in the important post if Mike's south-paw arm doesn't loosen completely for a Friday night assignment against Cincinnati's defending N.L. champs who follow the Braves into Candlestick Park.

DARK HAS no reservations, however, about his bullpen.

"I like it (the bullpen) just fine," said Dark, "with Stu Miller and Bob Bolin. BB (Dark's nickname for Bolin) threw strikes a lot better this spring than last year. And he got his newly acquired curve over for strikes. Yes, I'd have to say that, with the addition of Don Larson, our bullpen is a little better this year. At least, Stu will have a little more help this year. He really was a workhorse last season — and a mighty good one, too."

WOULD DARK hazard a guess on the outcome of the 1962 race? How did it look to him on the eve of its start?

"There still are six good clubs," he said. "Whichever one gets the good pitching will win it."

By the six clubs he meant the Giants, Dodgers, Braves, Cardinals, Red and Pirates. Was that right?

"Yes, those are the six with Pittsburgh needing a comeback by Vern Law," said Dark. St. Louis has been going good — and the Cardinals have good pitching. Make no mistake about that.

"What Cincinnati did with good pitching last year already is listed in the record books. Everybody knows what Spahn and Burdette do for Milwaukee every year and this season there are a couple of young Braves to give those veterans help. And similarly everybody knows about Los Angeles' front line starters — Koufax, Podres, Drysdale, Williams — and a host of others to back them up."

BUT DOES Dark think the Giants will win the pennant? "Yes," he said without qualification and turned to a veteran writer asking "Do you?" The writer replied "No, because I don't think you have the pitching to do it." Whereupon, Dark broke up the interview with a shrewd observation:

"Then, if we do win you would have to attribute it to good managing."

To this the veteran of the baseball beat agreed and Dark declared:

"That's what I like to hear."

KO'd Boxer Comes Out Of Coma

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP)—Boxer Tunney Hunsaker has awakened from a coma after a second brain operation. However a physician warned that the heavyweight's condition still was critical.

"I believe he'll come out of it now," said Hunsaker's wife, Phyllis.

Dr. E. L. Gage cautioned, "He's not out of the woods yet." Hunsaker, 30, former police chief at Fayetteville, W.Va., suffered the injury Friday night in a fight at Beckley, W. Va.

Dr. Gage said last night a trend in the fighter's condition should develop sometime Tuesday. Surgery was performed twice within 48 hours. The second operation, performed yesterday, was prompted by rapidly rising temperature and blood pressure.

The fighter, after his second trip to the operation room, emerged from a coma into which he lapsed after the fight with Joe Sheldon of Cleveland. He was knocked out in the 10th round.

As attendants wheeled him back to his room Hunsaker opened one eye (the other is black and swollen shut), smiled at his wife and kissed her twice, Mrs. Hunsaker said.

FORMULA FOR DISASTER

Do you know the formula for disaster? It's simple. Just add a careless spark to dry woods in the open air. Nature provides the fuel and the air, but, in 9 out of 10 cases, man provides the spark.

So, when the woods are hot and dry, be extra careful, won't you? That little spark from your campfire, your cigarette, or your trash fire can loose a raging demon, that charges through the forest destroying as it goes. Don't you let disaster strike!

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Big Bowling Jackpot; Marin Tourney Opens Saturday

One of the richest bowling tournaments ever staged in Marin County will open a 10-week run at Nave Lanes Saturday with some 599 keggers expected to shoot for approximately $1,000 in cash prizes.

It's the Gold Coast Handicap Tournament, a singles shoot for men, which eventually leads to a grand finale in Reno, Nev. in mid-July. Thirty other lanes in northern California are joining the Nave establishment in hosting the qualifying rounds for the big Reno finals.

Promoted by "300" Magazine, the tournament offers a total of $40,000 cash prizes, some distributed in the 31 local establishments and about $17,000 in the grand finals.

First place in the Nave tournament is at least $225, maybe more, depending on the size of the entry. Runner-up awards will boost the cash kitty to approximately $1,000, estimated Bill Nave Jr. of the Ignacio bowling center.

After the 10-week qualifying run, the Nave Lanes will stage a "house" finals in late June from which about seven men will qualify for the Reno roll-off against the top shooters from the 30 other northern California houses.

There are three ways to qualify for the Nave house finals: By finishing among the high 10 per cent scorers; by scoring the high handicap series for any of the 10 weeks; and by entering at least once a week for the 10 weeks. The latter is to insure any man with a major entry fee the opportunity to recover it in the house finals.

Qualifying rounds will be a three-game series with handicaps are based in two-thirds the difference between a bowler's average and 200. Entry fee is $3.85 per three-game series.

Eligible are all men, 18 years of age and older who have an established handicap.

Nave expects approximately 80 men to qualify for the house finals in late June. The top 10 per cent scorers then will qualify for the Reno finals where $3,000 will be the first prize, and five more of at least $1,000. No prizes at Reno will be less than $100.

The Nave tournament will officially begin at 2 p.m. Saturday with a special "kickoff" squad participating.

Pender Sets Sights On Big Money Title Go With Fullmer

BOSTON (AP)—Five years ago Paul Pender was an $87-a-week fire department ladderman. Today he was richer by $40,000 and stood at the foot of a quarter million dollar rainbow.

A small army of fight promoters wasted no time moving in on the 31-year-old Pender with proposals that they arrange a title bout with Gene Fullmer after pouncing Paul regained his share of the middleweight title from Britain's Terry Downes last Saturday night.

The inevitable match is needed to clear a cloud of confusion under which Pender is recognized as world champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe, while Fullmer is regarded as world champion in the remaining 48 of the United States.

Fullmer announced in Las Vegas, Nev., last night that he would welcome a fight with Pender for the undisputed crown.

"We shouldn't have too much trouble getting together on terms," Fullmer said. "And both of us should make pretty good money out of it."

Downes was left holding a cut nose that has been almost a trademark of his fight career after his rubber match with Pender, "My perishing hooter," Terry calls it.

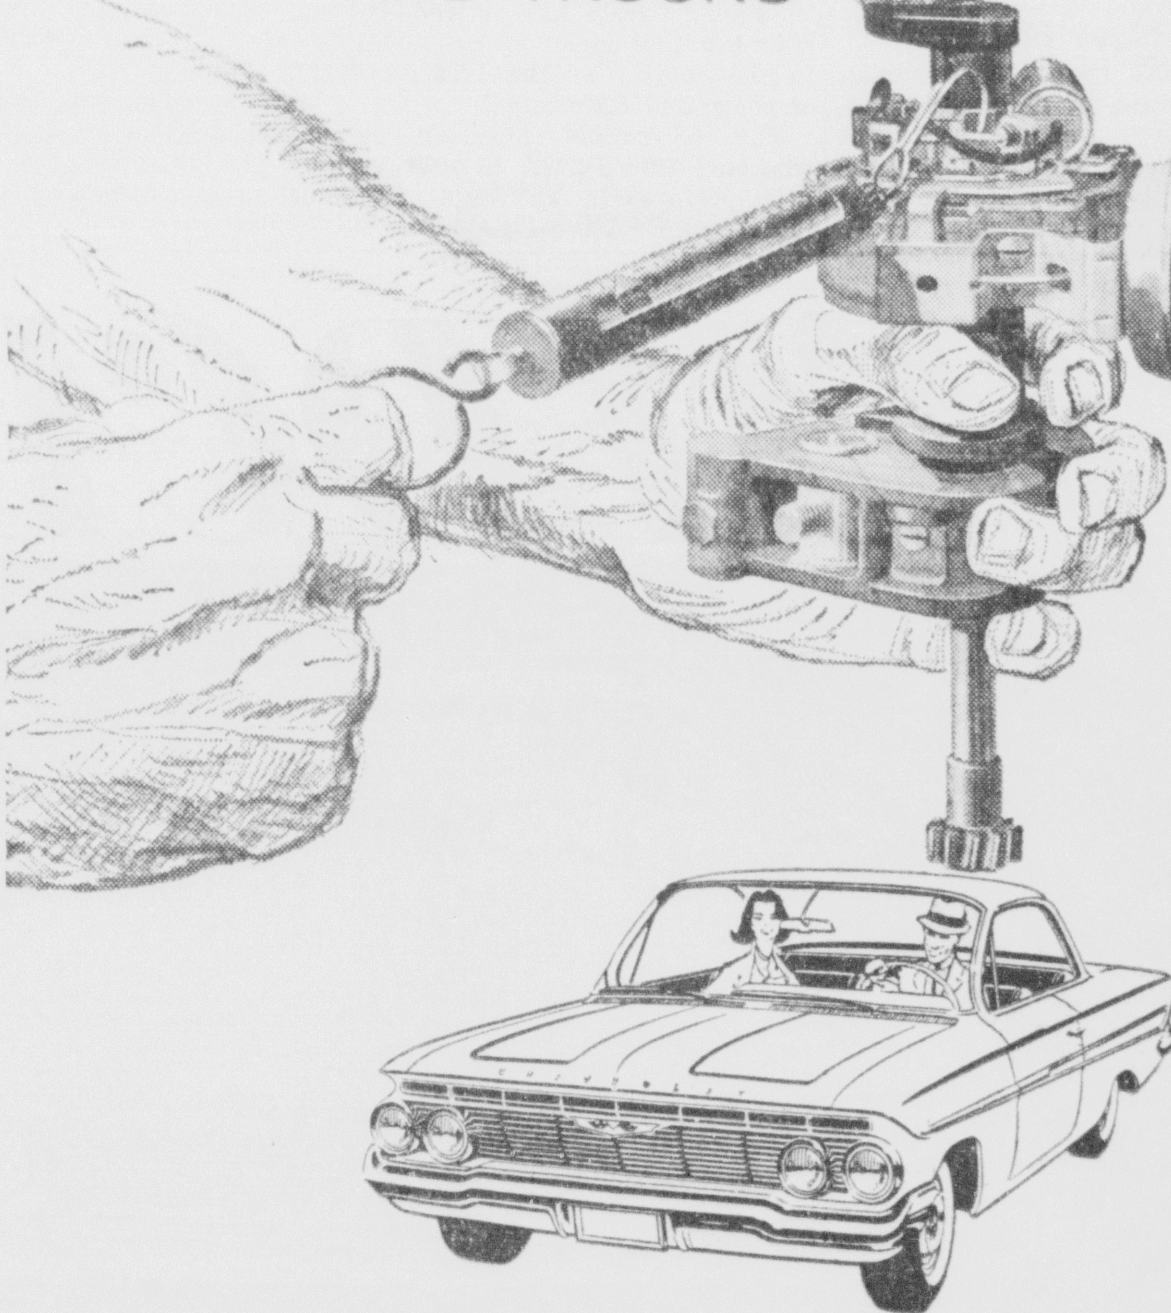

It was roughly the same nose Pender punched open for 14 stitches in their first meeting, and the same one Downes preserved in their London bout last July when Pender suddenly "retired" his title share to Downes after nine punishing rounds.

It was that nose that Pender used as a target to gain a unanimous decision Saturday night. All three officials and most ringsiders and television viewers appeared in agreement that the decision was a fair one.

In any event, each fighter collected 30 per cent of the net gate and 33 per cent of the television fee so they pocketed just over $40,000 apiece. Thus Pender's share was a far cry from his old fire department paycheck.

Bolivia On The Skids 10 Years After Revolution

LA PAZ, Bolivia — This South American country has been free of revolutions for 10 years. Despite the stability of one-party rule, Bolivia seems as much on the skids as it did when the National Revolutionary party ousted a military regime in an upheaval that began 10 years ago today.

It has taken 225 million dollars in U.S. funds to keep Bolivia alive since 1952. Per capita income for the nation's 3.5 million people is $95 a year, although the Bolivian Andes yield about 15 per cent of the world's tin.

The ruling party, called the MNR, was founded during World War II by Nazi and Communist sympathizers. It seems likely to hold power for many years to come.

The MNR stamps out any outside political opposition if it gets out of line or shows signs of gaining popular strength.

On the heels of the 1952 revolution, thousands of Bolivians in all walks of life fled to neighboring countries to live in exile.

Foes of the party were captured. Some were killed and others tortured. One man who wrote a book critical of the regime said later he was forced to eat it page by page.

The party is leftist but of varying degrees, and therein lies the cause of almost constant feuding and bickering within. Communists are well-entrenched, especially in the lower echelons of the government.

The leaders of the party in 1952 are the leaders today: President Victor Paz Estenssoro; Vice President Juan Lechin, leader of the miners; and former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, now ambassador to Uruguay.

When the MNR came to power it proposed universal suffrage, and ambitious land, social and educational reforms.

The army was dissolved and arms handed out freely to the peasants.

Then, as now, the landlocked country high in the Andes, was one of the hemisphere's most backward countries.

Without a seaport, it could do little foreign trade. Although almost twice the size of Texas, it is mostly barren and only a tiny portion of land is under cultivation.

It has two million Indians, almost all of them illiterate and downtrodden since the 16th century when their Inca forefathers were enslaved by the Spanish Conquistadors.

One of the first major acts of the MNR was to nationalize the tin mines, operated then by the great tin barons — Patino, Hochschild and Aramayo.

Under private management, the mines paid off. The government shared in profits and collected heavy taxes. Nationalization of the mines was a grave mistake, which the party now admits.

Skilled foreign engineers and technicians quit. Equipment wore out. Efficiency dropped. Production costs went up. Control of the 28,000 miners fell into the hands of Communists.

Guitarist From Japan Giving Concert

Classical guitarist Jiro Matsuda of Tokyo, Japan, has announced the program he will play for his concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Matsuda is one of the top winners of the international guitar competition in Spain last year.

The first half of his program will consist of four pieces by Galilei; Guardame las Vacas by Narvaz; Passacaglia by Visee; Sonata by D. Scarlatti; Preluda, Siciliana and Gavotte by J. S. Bach; Minuetto by Rameau; and Gran Solo by Sor.

After intermission numbers will be Allegro from Sonata Classica by Ponce; a Brahms waltz; Gavotte and Pavane by Tarrega; Homenaje by Falla; Danze Espagnola No. 5 by Granados; and Asturias by Albeniz.

Tickets may be obtained at the door on the night of the concert.

Matsuda will present virtually the same program on April 13 at 8:30 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley. This concert is sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Canada Envoy Is Resigning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House today announced the retirement of Livingston T. Merchant, veteran U. S. diplomat and currently ambassador to Canada.

Merchant attributed the decision to "personal reasons," it said.

The 58-year-old envoy has served two assignments as U. S. ambassador to Ottawa. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower named him as ambassador to Canada in 1956.

After serving in that post for a little over two years, Merchant was named assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Board May Decide On 'Open' Zoning

Future of the long-debated proposed "open area zoning" ordinance may be decided by Marin county supervisors tomorrow afternoon when the subject comes up as a continued matter.

Though a similar proposal is resting in the Planning Commission, it has been indefinitely continued.

Attorneys will be present at 4 p.m. for questioning by the board on the appeal of Stella Hughes against her discharge as assistant personnel director. Duane Anderson of San Francisco has submitted a 17-page brief, one of seven pages has been turned in by Asst. County Counsel Douglas Maloney, and they have agreed to waive oral argument.

The supervisors have about 150,000 words of appeal transcript and Supervisor Peter Behr and George Ludy say they've read this as prerequisite to final decision by the board. (The supervisors will meet at 9:30 a.m. and resume at 1:30 p.m. after lunch.)

Navy Reserve Course

Naval Reserve Lt. David B. Hudson of 18 Brentwood Drive, San Rafael, recently completed a course on the duties of a Combat Information Center watch officer at the anti-air warfare training center in San Diego.

Other items to be considered by the board include one resignation and one leave of absence.

Playgrounds Use On Tap

An agreement between the San Jose School District and the city of Novato for use of school playgrounds for a recreation program will be considered the school district board at 8 p.m. today in the library of Meadow Park School.

The same agreement has been approved by the Novato Unified School District board. If the San Jose board approves it, it will give the parks and recreation department use of all school playgrounds in the city for a summer recreation program.

Pablo Casals Arrives For Concert

SAN FRANCISCO — Cellist Pablo Casals has arrived from Puerto Rico "to put music to the service of the ideals of peace and fraternity."

The 85-year-old musician, who once vowed never to publicly perform in an country that recognized the Franco regime in his native Spain, will conduct the American premiere of his oratorio "The Manger" this week.

"I have accepted this conducting engagement because I wish to give this work as a personal message of peace," he said Sunday.

Casals does not consider his appearances with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra a break in his vow.

"I wrote this work with that special sentiment, peace and I feel the crucial times we face call for every effort in encouraging those ideals," he said.

Diversity And Sections For All

Growth Reflects Interests

A fitting description for the Marin Branch of American Association of University Women might be, "The whole of AAUW is equal to the sum of its parts," with those parts being 24 sections covering diversified interests.

This growing organization of college women was formed here in 1932 with 20 members in attendance at the first meeting. Twenty-one charter members continue in the Marin branch, which now lists a membership of more than 400 from all areas of Marin.

Last week, five AAUW sections gathered at the San Rafael home of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Eastman Jr. where photographs were taken amid the collection of antiques gathered by AAUW president Bea Eastman.

THE PAINTING SECTION meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month and its members range from beginners to professionals such as co-chairman Mrs. Charles Swensen, who has a show at Torrance galleries. The group is preparing an exhibit for the AAUW Discovery Dinner on June 5. April and May meetings will cover techniques used in oil painting and a lesson in matting and framing. Chairman is Mrs. Donald Auslen.

Designs for Living section members strive to improve themselves as homemakers, members of the community and as American citizens in a turbulent world. Meetings this year have covered such diverse topics as educational television, stocks and investments, Red China and general property taxes. Future programs will cover European architecture, the Brussels world fair and home decoration, says chairman Mrs. Patrick J. Leader.

RECENT GRADUATES Section is open to AAUW members under 30 years of age. This year the group stressed community leadership and notes three members active in the Marin Mental Health Assn., two members of the Council of Community Services and nine members in Pixie Parents organization. Meetings are held once a month and a barbecue is planned for section members and their husbands at the end of the year. Co-chairmen are Mesdames Larry B. Mishkind and Richard E. Laws.

Garden Section members are not required to possess a green thumb when they join. But Mrs. Werner F. Chilton, chairman, says everyone soon gains this badge of gardening prowess. Activities this year have included a tour of some of

Gray Lady Orientation Will Be Held Thursday In Sonoma

A hospital orientation course for new Red Cross Gray Lady volunteers will be held Thursday according to Mrs. Vern MacFarlan, chairman of Gray Ladies for Marin Red Cross.

It will be given at Sonoma State Hospital from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Those interested will learn about the summer day camp program for children and work in the grooming classes and pediatric units and do clerical work. The course will include ward tours with an explanation of the operation of the hospital.

Those wishing to register may telephone the Red Cross in San Rafael.

Mrs. Livermore Is Presented Award By 14th District

For her many years of service to her community and for the benefit of the children of Marin, Mrs. Norman B. Livermore of Ross received an honorary life membership from the 14th District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, comprising Marin and Sonoma.

Mrs. Robin Galloway of Kentfield, new 14th district president, made the award at the annual meeting at the Novato Community Center.

MRS. LIVERMORE and her family settled in Marin over

MRS. ROBIN GALLOWAY

30 years ago. She served as president of the Ross School P-TA when her own five sons were young and, as a member of the Ross School board, when the school needed a playground, she purchased the land and presented it to the school.

Mrs. Livermore is well known for her work in establishing the Marin Art and Garden Center with its member groups, for her assistance to the Junior Theatre of Marin, and her work and leadership in the Conservation League, in the Audubon Society, and in securing county and state parks and the Richardson Bay Wildlife refuge.

The second honorary life membership was presented to another community worker, Mrs. E. J. Thronsdon of Santa Rosa. A den mother for Cub Scouts and troop committee member for the Boy Scouts, she also reared four children and she has an Indonesian "son" who was informally adopted and lived with them while attending Santa Rosa Junior College. Her home has always been open to any group that needed a meeting place, if its object was to help children.

THE NEW president-elect of 14th District was installed, together with her directors by Mrs. George Alpers of San Rafael, a member of the State Congress' executive board. President of the 14th District for the next two years will be Mrs. Galloway, who has been prominent in Marin County P-TA for many years, holding nearly every office.

She has a master's degree from New York University and is a graduate of the University of Oregon. She is a member of the American Assn. of University Women and the League of Women Voters. For many years, Mrs. Galloway was active in the Camp Fire Girls, serving as Blue Bird leader, Camp Fire guardian, and six years on the Marin County Council board, and for two years its president. Now she is regional representative to Region Ten. She also belongs to the Sierra Club and the Marin Audubon Society.

IN P-TA SHE was president of Brookside P-TA unit in San Anselmo, program chairman of the Ross Valley Council, director of organization and vice president of 14th District, and has held various offices in the Ross Valley Council. She is now a member of Redwood High School P-TA executive board.

Installed with Mrs. Galloway were Mesdames William Campbell of San Rafael, vice president; Orville Witt of Santa Rosa, director of organization; E. A. Cambouris of Corte Madera, director of public welfare; F. F. Dewey of Santa Rosa, director of parent and family life, and Louis Avedano of San Rafael, financial secretary.

Stitching Bias Tape Along Its Fold Is Neatest Method

By EUNICE FARMER

Tailor trix winner of the week is Eloise Black, St. Clair Shores, Mich., with this suggestion.

"The neatest way to apply bias tape on material is to turn the narrow edge of the bias fold out, and stitch along the wrong side of the tape, on the fold line.

"Then fold the bias over onto the right side of material and stitch close to the edge. In this way you will never have a part of the tape that hasn't been caught in the seam. This will work wonders if you do a lot of aprons etc., for your club bazaar.

"Your interesting column has been a great help to me, now I am hoping you will answer my question. My one shoulder is lower than the other, which causes wrinkles to fall in the bodice on the low side. What is the correct way to fix this?" Mrs. H. S.

Dear Mrs. H. S.: Instead of relying on an extra shoulder pad, which was the way this situation was formerly corrected, take up the shoulder seam about 1/2 inch, tapering to nothing at the neck edge. Now when you can see the wrinkles disappear, you will know you have taken up the correct amount. Since you have made the armhole smaller, you will have to cut out the lower edge of the armhole the same amount that you have taken out of the shoulder, tapering to nothing at the notch in front and back of the armhole.

"Is it possible to make a blouse from a dress pattern? I think it is very hard to find nice blouse patterns and I do have a favorite neckline on a dress." Mrs. A. R.

Dear Mrs. A. R.:

Yes, this is possible, and not too difficult. Since all blouses need a little extra "ease," in other words, they are not fitted as close as a dress, allow a little extra length. You could lay a skirt pattern over the bodice pattern, and in this way you would get the correct curve for the hip-line. However, once again, I want to warn you that you must allow for more length in the bodice, and a little extra in the width. Your blouse should be about 6 inches below the waist so it doesn't slip out of the skirt easily.

Many women forget that a skirt can be made from any skirt of a dress pattern. You do not need to buy an extra pattern for the skirt if you have a favorite one. Just cut it as usual, making any pattern changes necessary for fitting, and then apply the waistband.

"I carry most of my weight from the hips down. Please tell me what kind of skirt would be the most becoming to my figure. Your column is wonderful for those of us who would like to sew but do not know how. Many thanks." Mrs. J. L. B.

Dear Mrs. J. L. B.:

If most of your weight is in the hips, avoid pleated and very full skirts. Instead of hiding anything, they make you look larger. You could wear a four-gore skirt that has a little fullness at the lower end of the skirt, or a one piece skirt in front, with 3 sections in the back for extra ease. If a straight skirt is fitted properly, I really feel that this can be your most becoming style.

Your sewing glossary: Blouseson: This is a term that has been used a great deal in recent years in describing ready to wear clothes as well as patterns. It simply means a little extra "blouse" or fullness above the waistline. Sometimes this is very exaggerated, but it can be adjusted so that it is becoming to your own figure.

Send questions to Sew Simple. If you need help inserting sleeves, send for Eunice Farmer's 10-cent booklet, "All About Sleeves." Send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Tips Can Help In Buying Easter Eggs

For consumers the use they plan to make of eggs during Easter week should be their guide in purchasing. Following are some tips from home economists on selection and preparation.

Choose Grade AA or A, for the eggs to be served poached, fried or cooked in the shell at meal time.

But for those eggs to be dyed, the shell color and size are of prime importance. Sometimes it is possible to purchase lower grade eggs for coloring and dyeing and thus save money.

White shells dye in clear bright colors. Therefore, white-shelled eggs in all grades generally are in heavy demand the week prior to Easter.

Brown and speckled shells don't take color in quite the same way as white shells, but do produce some very interesting effects.

Questions always are asked as to the advisability of eating dyed eggs. All Easter egg coloring sold today must be approved as safe by the federal government. The labels are required to state that the dye has been certified by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Even though the eggs used for dyeing are generally hard-cooked it is best to eat them within a day or so.

Prepare eggs for dyeing by wiping shells thoroughly with a moist cloth. Allow to dry.

Eggs may be dyed after "hard-cooking," or the contents of the raw egg may be removed and the shells then dyed.

Eggs dye best when hot. Use a separate glass or paper cup for each color. Prepare vegetable dye solutions according to the manufacturer's directions. Immerse eggs in the solution until they become the shade of color desired, then remove with tongs.

Ears, hats and noses can be added to the oval egg in order that three-dimensional creations may be achieved.

Use ready-made dress-ups which are available in kits, or make them up using scraps of construction paper, lace, fabric and a needle and thread.

One ounce paper souffle cup are quick and easy bases for dress-up eggs.

It's Quite Natural For Teen-Age Boys To Become Curious About Sex

"My son is extremely interested in sex," a mother writes, "and so are his buddies. He is 14. His gang has a clubroom in our garage. The boys don't know it, but I can overhear their conversations. I'm shocked."

ed. They boast of sexual adventures which I hope are imaginary. They tell obscene jokes and discuss female anatomy. Are these boys abnormal? What's wrong with them anyway?"

Let me reassure you. Almost all boys of 14 are avidly interested in sex. The boys who aren't interested are the abnormal ones. Ask your husband to tell you what he and his gang talked about when he was 14. His answer may surprise you.

Remember, boys are born savages. By nature they're equipped for a very primitive, earthy life. They have to learn to be civilized. They must guide, control, thwart or sublimate many of their normal interests. Their most difficult years are 14 and 15, from the standpoint of sex. They reach the peak of their sexual potential then. Their reproductive drive is at its strongest.

Don't misunderstand me. We are civilized. Our religion gives us a strict moral code. We should try to live up to it. Dirty stories, masturbation and illicit sex all are wrong. We can't let our boys follow their uninhibited inclinations. But neither should we be shocked when we find them interested in sex.

Could your son's gang be persuaded to join the Scouts, the YMCA or a boys' club. If these boys joined such a group they'd find a constructive program awaiting them, and their interests might be diverted to safer subjects. Good leaders would be available. Have your husband see what he can do.

Parties should be as individual as the hostess' fingerprints. Of course, good planning lays the foundation for every good party. Follow the common sense rules:

Invite only as many guests as you can handle easily.

Provide ample refreshments appealing both to the eye and to the appetite (of both men and women if it's a mixed party).

Make advance preparations covering foods, table appointments, service (glasses, china, serving pieces, silverware, flower containers) special decorations, the house and your costume.

Add to the common sense preparations your own flair. Perhaps your specialty is an Old World recipe. Develop a theme around it with table appointments and menu accompaniments.

Flower arrangements themselves can become conversation pieces.

As a change from table centerpiece, try this: Group five or six goblets in one table corner. Place a taper firmly in the center of each. Add water to the goblet, and fill in the space around the candle with carnations, cornflowers or ivy.

Surprise guests with unexpected arrangements: a nose-gay-type arrangements in a shaving mug in the bathroom, using small blooms to complement bathroom colors; a tall, slim arrangement at the telephone; a fat sugarbowl full of flowers at the kitchen sink; a brass bucket of greens at the fireplace; individual vials holding one rosebud each outside the railing on each step of an open stairway.

For a bridge luncheon, arrange the flowers in corsages for each guest to wear.

AAUW Sections Study Problems Of Today's World

EDUCATION is divided into two sections. Elementary and secondary education members with Mrs. Fred Luiz, chairman, and Mrs. Abraham Froman, co-chairman, have studied educational television in the classroom. They also carry on a survey of resource persons in each community who can supplement school programs in foreign languages, library, art, music, physical education and related fields. Chairman of the resource persons survey is Mrs. Robert S. Milmo.

Higher Education Section, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Moynihan, has studied the findings of the California State Credential committee and has forwarded their comments and recommendations for teacher credentialing to Sacramento for discussion.

OTHER AAUW sections are Creative Writing, Decorative Arts, Music Listening, Play Reading, two Reading Arts groups, two Gourmet sections, International Relations, Legislation, Social and Economic Issues, Status of Women, Couples Dancing and six Bridge Sections.

College women interested in joining AAUW are invited to call Mrs. Robert L. Flanders, first vice president and membership chairman, and to attend the annual membership tea in September.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, April 9, the 99th day of the year with 266 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1865, Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to Gen. U.S. Grant at Appomattox Court-house, Va.

In 1940, Germany launched a "blitzkrieg" invasion of both Denmark and Norway.

In 1942, after more than three months of heroic resistance, the American and Filipino forces on Bataan in the Philippines were overwhelmed by a Japanese army ten times their number.

In 1953, the New York State Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, became the first major fraternal organization in the U.S. to ban racial or religious restrictions in its membership qualifications.

A thought for the day: English author Samuel Johnson said: "I would rather be attacked than unnoticed. For the worst thing you can do to an author is to be silent as to his works."

MARIN CHILDREN IN TV SPOTLIGHT

Independent Journal, Monday, April 9, 1962 23

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Shhhhhhhhh! This Week Devoted To The Abatement Of Noise

This week has been proclaimed National Noise Abatement Week. We don't know all the sounds that are supposed to be quieted, but building supply firms and furnishers will use it to promote acoustical materials in the home to discourage hi-fi overtones, off-key saxophone notes and family arguments from reaching the neighbors' ears.

Modern buildings with spacious open-plan design, glass facades and hard-surfaced walls are pleasing to the eye, they say, but less so aurally. Wood-fiber ceiling tiles, adequate carpeting, draperies and insulated partitions are considered helpful in soaking up noisome decibels.

LONG ESTABLISHED East Bay general contractor Roy R. Thut (main office in Hayward) has focused his attention on the North Bay Area and now maintains a district office at 7464 Redwood Highway, Novato.

It services Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano Counties and is directed by field representative Walter Ney. Custom homes, duplexes and commercial building construction. Two model homes are being built in Napa; one should appear soon in Marin—probably Novato.

DICK WOLBERT of Mill Valley who's been in charge of fumigating for Montgomery Pest Control, San Francisco the last two years has been appointed Marin representative and is going after general pest work in the county. The firm will maintain a 24-hour answering service in San Rafael—office later.

Montgomery does a terrific amount of fumigating in the city on imports of coffee and cocoa beans and spices but has all the structural pest control licenses the state has to offer. V. H. Montgomery is past president of the National Pest Control Association.

REALTOR Bill Timmer perhaps should move his offices from Third and B Streets, San Rafael to somewhere on Mission, since he seems to be bearing down on property sales there. He had the listings on both corners at Mission and Nye recently sold for professional use to Pacific Coast Title Co. and Melvin Marlowe.

HARRY A. KNIGHT of Sleepy Hollow, section supervisor in the policy-holder services of Metropolitan Life is attending a two-week conference for management personnel in New York. Klaus D. Meisner of Fairfax is at a career conference of New York Life agents in Eugene, Ore.

OPENING SPECIAL of Peter Robichaud's new Nicole Coordinated Casuals, 35 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley is giveaways of Capris and Jamaicas with every purchase. It will last as long as the stocks holdout.

FIREPLUG FIGHTER Ted Cohen of Ted's Taxi has taken quarters at 5784 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera for his airborne freight and airport transportation service—this is where A. A. (Rip) Van Winkle used to have his real estate office, now moved to Larkspur.

After an unsuccessful encounter trying to forestall another taxi permit in Corte Madera, Don Quixote Cohen is girding his armor for renewed attack on the Tiburon fireplug will halberd, lance and wordy onslaught.

There is something special on television tonight. It's a look at the secret, special world of Marin children; a simple, realistic world in which the important things involve balloons, running, jumping, a trip to the zoo, a romp in the surf at Stinson Beach, a ride on a cable car.

It's a simple world where adults may be present, but are alien—a world lost to most adults simply because they have become adults, "grown-ups."

The show, called "The Secret World," is the work of two Mill Valley men and an assortment of their, and neighborhood youngsters. It will be presented by KRON-TV at 6:30 p.m. as part of the Assignment Four documentary series.

"Only it's not a documentary," says Bob Anderson, writer-producer, who worked on the show with photographer Al Kihn. "We've departed from our usual format. We tried to explore the world of children and, in so doing, tried something new.

"The camera didn't photograph AT the kids—it joined WITH them. We didn't set up any situations, we just tried to record—as I said, with them—their reactions to situations, objects, new environment."

And how did the adults fare during the filming? "Not so well. Kihn was hit from behind by a wave while filming the sequence at Stinson and nearly lost his camera in the surf. I limped for a week after misjudging a leap across a stream at Muir Woods. The kids emerged without even stubbing a toe.

"But then, we were strangers in their world. They knew their way around. We didn't."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Tax Can Be Delayed If There's A Reason

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

If for some reason beyond your control it is impossible for you to file your federal and California income tax returns by midnight Monday, April 16, 1962 then you should request an extension of time. Extensions are usually granted, for good reason, for a sixty-day period.

Requests for extensions of time should be in triplicate and signed by you or your agent.

Forms are available at your local office of the Internal Revenue Service and Franchise Tax Board. All requests for extensions should be on these forms and three copies are necessary. However, if you are unable to secure the forms, a letter in triplicate will do.

Your application should clearly set forth the full cause of the delay and the probable time that you will be able to complete your return.

It should give your full name and address as it will appear on your tax return when you do file.

Extensions are usually granted for a good reason, such as illness, accidents, etc. Extensions are never granted because you are unable to pay the tax. If you cannot pay the tax due, file your return anyway. You will get a bill and you will have to pay it sooner or later. You will be charged interest, but there will be no penalty. If you do not file your return on time, you will be subjected to severe penalties. So, either file the return or apply for an extension.

Registrations are now being processed for the Tamalpais Union High School District summer school, according to Harry G. Russell, principal of the summer school.

Classes at Sir Francis Drake High, which are already full are: beginning art, ceramics, clothing, foods, woodshop, and driver training.

Russell mentioned that students should investigate the enrichment science course which will be offered this year. American government, the new state requirement, may be offered in a post session starting July 23, if there is enough demand.

Russell can be contacted at his office at Sir Francis Drake High School.

To ask that a message be repeated, a Morse code telegrapher need only open his key.

Novato City Council Due Report On Church Property Negotiations

A report on negotiations of the City of Novato to buy the Presbyterian Church property will be given the Novato City Council at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

The regular meeting of the council was scheduled for tomorrow, city election day. So the council voted to meet tonight. It will also meet on Wednesday night to consider planning matters.

At its last meeting, the council voted to offer the Presbyterian church $60,000 for its property adjacent to the community building. This consists of the church building, Trevitt Hall and the adjoining parsonage.

The council building committee recommended that Trevitt Hall be used as city offices, the church for public meetings, and the parsonage for police headquarters. The community building would be used as headquarters for the parks and recreation director and for recreation purposes.

Public School Not For Her

The San Rafael Curriculum Study Committee receives many letters from disgruntled parents complaining of this, that and the other thing.

A letter was received from Cynthia Muir of 30 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, expressing almost complete disapproval of the public schools.

Mrs. Muir, who sent copies of her letter to the Board of Education and the Independent-Journal, wrote that she sends her own child to a private school. "The reasons for this will become obvious to you," she wrote.

Among her comments:

U.S. Melting Pot Is Theme Of Music Festival

"United States, the Melting Pot of Nations" will be the theme of a music festival by choral groups from the six schools in the Dixie School District at 8 p. m. Thursday.

The program will be given in the gymnasium of Terra Linda High School, music director Joseph Curatilo announced.

The combined choruses of 350 will join for a finale, "Ours Is the World," accompanied by a flute choir of 50.

Curatilo and music consultant Jean Wright are in charge of the program, assisted by Lucille Leisure of Lucas Valley School; Joan Tibbetts, Mary E. Silveira School; Ruth Jacobson, Santa Margarita School; Victor Pilch, Hoffman School; Betty Jo Barnes, Vallecito School; and Jean Wright, Don Timoteo.

Betty Taylor and Douglas Perrin will serve as accompanists.

Textbooks: "... pretty ... crammed with pictures of pink-and-white families going to the supermarket."

High school students: "All dressed with a conforming sloppiness ... dragging their heels off to the nearest corner where they may light a cigarette ... a horrifying lack of enthusiasm ... fear of exhibiting any emotion, or of voicing any opinion ... summed up in the listless and laconic 'okay'."

High school campus: "... handsome ... strewn with litter of all kinds."

"We are in danger of bringing about the millennium of mediocrity," she wrote, because of the administrators' attempt to "give everyone an even break and make school fun for everyone."

As for teachers, Mrs. Muir described them as "young and personable ... friendly and approachable—not a bit like the ogres of my day."

Students of today lack sense of direction, sense of values, ambition and faith in themselves, her letter complained. They "have never learned to study; know nothing thoroughly; have never been made to put out maximum effort; are not shown how to think for themselves; have no conception of history, literature or the world in which they live."

The child, she wrote, "is not made to memorize, nor to compose. He emerges at a high school level unable to read or write, let alone to spell or to speak grammatically."

The purpose of education, Mrs. Muir declared, "is to train the mind and intellect." Conditioning the mind is discipline, not play, she said.

Mrs. Muir's suggested remedies:

"Where the home has failed in setting ethical standards, the school must aid in supplying these."

"We must have better textbooks, especially in the teaching of reading. (It is ridiculous to employ any but the phonetic system)."

"We need better tests."

"We need emphasis on neatness, thoroughness and application ... (and) should demand the maximum of effort from kindergarten on."
